Soviet Bloc Leaders In Summit Meet

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived in East Berlin today and was told that President Kennedy's trip to West Berlin was made for the purpose of creating enmity among Germans. Khrushchev said he agreed.

He came for a summit meeting with leaders of Soviet bloc countries.

Walter Ulbricht, the spade-bearded East German Communist leader, greeted Khrushchev with a kiss and declared in a welcoming speech:

"Kennedy came to West Berlin to stir up the West German people against the people of East Germany in the interests of the American monopolists."

In reply Khrushchev said he agreed completely with Ulbricht's analysis of the Kennedy visit to West Berlin on Wednesday.

Khrushchev stepped out of his plane accompanied by his wife, Nina.

Contrary to speculation Khrushchev did not bring along Valentina Tereshkova, the Soviet space woman. Some thought he might do so in an effort to whip up public excitement similar to that which greeted Kennedy in West Berlin.

Officially the purpose of the visit—announced only four days ago—was to help Ulbricht celebrate his 70th birthday Sunday.

Following Khrushchev into Berlin were Polish party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Czechoslovak President Antonin Novotny.

Other satellite leaders are expected to assemble in East Berlin by Sunday, the 70th birthday of East German Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht.

Ulbricht's birthday is the official pretext for the gathering. But it is the first time Khrushchev has left home to attend a birthday party for a satellite leader, and Western officials in Berlin are convinced there is much more to the trip than that.

Seven Leap From Fiery Rio Building

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Fire raged through the upper floors of a 21-story commercial building today, and at least seven persons fell to their deaths.

Others were believed dead in the spectacular blaze. At least 20 firemen were injured.

Thousands jamming the area saw two women and three men plunge to the street. They were trying to escape from the 14th floor by a rope. The rope broke.

A woman leaped to her death from the 18th floor when a fireman's ladder was only five feet away. A fireman died in a fall from the 14th floor.

Two helicopters plucked survivors from the roof.

The building houses three movie companies. Stocks of film added to the fury of the blaze.

How many people were in the building was not known at once. Handicapped at the outset by a shortage of water, firemen watched helplessly as the flames swept the 10 upper floors and leaped to an adjoining commercial building.

Herbert Richer, in whose office the fire started, reported:

"I saw a big light flash in the air-conditioning equipment, followed by heavy smoke. I ran through the corridors. I think there were about 15 persons there and I think they were saved."

3-cent Tax Increase Asked In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos asked for an additional 3-cent property tax increase Thursday as he submitted his 1963 final budget to the County Council.

The budget totaled $18,076,000, exceeding Roos' preliminary proposal last December by $43,862.

His suggested property tax hike represents a 7-cent increase from the present rate to $1.02 per $100 property valuation. It includes a 4-cent increase recommended by the administration of Roos' predecessor, James H. McNary.

BEST WHEAT CROP—Edward Bauer, Route 1, Cole Camp, declares "this is my best wheat crop in all the years I have been farming." He had a 17-acre field of Monon that averaged 66 bushels an acre weighed over the scales of the Missouri Farmers Association Elevator at Ionia. "I cut some wheat for a neighbor earlier that made better than 45 bushels an acre and while I was on the combine I kept hoping my wheat would do as well. Little did I expect to come up with a whopping 66 bushels an acre," Bauer said. He fertilized the field with a grain starter last fall and top dressed with 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre this February. He seeded the field heavy at a rate of more than two bushels per acre.

Denies TFX Design Is Inferior One

Navy Secretary Testifies Before Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth gave Senate investigators a denial today that the Pentagon has settled for an inferior, costlier version of the TFX warplane.

His testimony before the Senate Investigations subcommittee was direct conflict with that given previously by witnesses for the uniformed Air Force and Navy. The plane is intended for use by both services.

Korth pictured the General Dynamics version as 320 miles an hour faster than Boeing's at high altitude, 150 miles an hour faster at low altitude. The top speed has been described in testimony as about two and a half times the speed of sound.

He said the General Dynamics plane could stay aloft longer than Boeing's—50 per cent longer over an assault area at extreme long range.

He said Boeing's design had unacceptable maneuvering restrictions, and that at extreme altitudes and speeds the General Dynamics version would be twice as maneuverable.

Boeing, he said, had a not-highly-significant advantage of lighter weight, but the General Dynamics version had an advantage of being smaller.

The subcommittee is seeking to establish whether favoritism figured in award of the potentially huge contract to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., over the Boeing Co. of Seattle.

State Charges Filed Against Two Youths

William Harvey Walters, Jr., 19, 2110 South Engineer, and Floyd Cecil Weathers, 17, Route 3, were transferred from the city jail to the county jail Friday morning and Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz prepared a state warrant of tampering with a motor vehicle against them.

Walters and Weathers had been arrested by Sedalia police late Wednesday night and charged on a city warrant with petit larceny in connection with the taking of some gasoline from a truck owned by Thomas Fisher, 1604 East Harvey.

Friday morning the city withdrew its charges against the two in Police Court and turned them over to the Pettis County Sheriff's Department to face the state charge.

New Space Scooter Designed for Moon

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP) — An aerospace firm has come up with something it calls a space scooter, a one-man platform with hand-levers designed for crater hopping and crag climbing on the moon.

It's steered by balance, like a surfboard. Lean in the direction you want to go, and you do.

North American Aviation envisions a model, powered by jets of storable liquid propellants, which would carry a man quickly over rough lunar terrain, hovering or soaring as necessary.

Compromise Money Bill To House

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP) — Compromise appropriation bills headed for action in the Missouri House today after the Senate passed them Thursday afternoon and night.

The big battle over aid to dependent children funds was compromised as both House and Senate conferees agreed unanimously on new figures. The Senate then repassed the welfare bill with little trouble.

As it went to the House, the bill carried $15,600,000 in state funds for the ADC program for the next two years. That amount will be matched with federal funds.

The compromise was $986,028 under the House figure but $1,013,972 more than the Senate figure.

The Senate first tried to lop off $2 million in a blow at illegitimacy in the ADC program. Negro members of the House and Senate objected vigorously and attempted to have the full amount restored.

The subject didn't even come up when the Senate repassed the bill, although the lone Negro member, Sen. T. D. McNeal, D-St. Louis, continued to protest with a "no" vote.

Later the Senate finished work on the main money bills at a night session.

Included was one carrying $99,150,647 for the state colleges and universities and some state boards. That was $321,282 under the governor's recommendations.

Cuban Sugar Crop Far Behind Normal

HAVANA (AP)—The newspaper Hoy reports the entire Cuban sugar crop is menaced.

It said Thursday no more than 158,400 acres would be planted by June 30, only 39 per cent of the normal acreage.

Hoy blamed the "slow use of new systems which means difficulties for the plans developed by the party and revolutionary government."

Engineering Building On Auction Block

The Shopen Realty Auction Co. of Kansas City has been appointed to sell the American Engineering Co. building on the Green Ridge Road south of Sedalia.

The appointment was made by Judge Harry F. Murphy, referee in the bankruptcy proceedings of AEC, and L. I. Ozar, trustee.

Cecil F. Shopen told The Democrat-Capital Friday morning that the sale will be held on the AEC building premises Monday, July 15, at 2 p.m.

The sale will be made through open oral bids, subject to an existing lien held by the First State Savings Association of Sedalia.

Shopen will be at the building on the morning of the sale, and prospective buyers may inspect the building at that time. He added that he would make arrangements for prior inspection providing the prospective buyer contacts the Shopen Realty Auction Co., Scarratt Arc Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., telephone GR 1-143.

Rousing Welcome for JFK In Port City of Ireland

Congress Welcomes Tour Data

Wait-and-See Attitude by GOP On French Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — The acclaim given President Kennedy in Europe was welcomed by congressional leaders today, but Republicans cautioned against weighing the lasting success of the trip until all the results are in — particularly from France.

House Speaker John McCormack D-Mass., voiced the general Democratic feeling that the President's tour had made "a profound impression conducive to furthering the national interests of our country and those of Europe."

The assistant Democratic leader of the Senate, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, saw the President's trip as "vindicating all the doubts and dire predictions that assailed him before his departure."

Humphrey said he considered the Kennedy restatements of U.S. policy "direct answers to the most damaging arguments" of President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois agreed that the President had been "welcomed with open arms and listened to in Germany as the President of the United States should have been."

Dirksen said he hoped that "good results will flow" from the trip, but warned against speculating on the President's success in "trying to patch up certain situations."

Continuance Granted On Zoning Hearing

A continuance in the hearing on a zoning disagreement over the use of a driveway in Sedalia's Woodlawn addition was granted Friday morning.

O. E. Brown, attorney for Gih V. Owen, 53, 807 North Grand, of the T & O Lime and Rock Company, requested the case be continued to July 16. The charge was filed Thursday morning and had been set for hearing in Police Court on July 2.

Owen is charged on a complaint signed by Lou Derendinger with using a driveway over a lot in an R-1 (first dwelling house) district for commercial purposes and as access to property located in an M-2 (heavy industrial) district.

Citizens Band Jubilee Set For Sunday

Expect Some 500 From Over State To Attend Meet

Sunday is the day for the Sedalia Citizens Band Emergency Radio Network Club annual Jubilee at the air-conditioned Agricultural Building at the State Fair Grounds.

Some 500 people are expected to attend. There will be a cash door prize donated by the club, along with many other valuable donations from merchants and dealers throughout Mid-Missouri to be given away during the day during intermissions.

There will be displays of the latest in Citizens Band radio equipment. The displays will include two outstanding "mobile rigs," a Citizens Band radio-equipped motorcycle, and an antique pick-up.

Miss Carolyn McKeeown, widely-known organist from Moberly, will provide entertainment during the day.

Other entertainers will be a quartet of outstanding vocalists from Sedalia, composed of Jim McFall, Bill McFarland, Nick Salmons and Russ Lesley; and "The Comets," composed of Ruth Bockelman, rhythm guitar, Butch Turner, steel and bass guitar, Dave Turner, lead guitar, Danny Rau, saxophone, and Jim Johnson, drums.

The radio club now consists of 37 members, who are on call 24 hours a day in the event of an emergency. The club works with Jack Kraus, civil defense director, and the Sedalia Police Department, when needed. The club was active in the gas shortage.

Freeman Honors Given Before Cheering Crowd

DUBLIN (AP) — To great applause and cheers, President Kennedy told members of the Irish Parliament today they represent a free country — and that is why he feels at home in Ireland.

The Dail, formed out of centuries of struggle, opened its doors — and its heart — to the U.S. President who is the great-grandson of an Irish emigrant.

Kennedy came here after a second barnstorming tour around the Irish countryside during which he received the freedom of Cork and another mighty welcome from Irishmen.

A roar of applause and cheering burst out as the President strode into the Dail chamber to address a joint session.

Dail Speaker Patrick Hogan declared: "It is an occasion unique as an event in Irish history—it is an international gesture of kindness and goodwill."

Kennedy told the Dail that the free Ireland of today has a future "as promising as your past is proud" in the role of "a maker and shaper of world peace."

He said he feels "at home" in Ireland—"no longer a country of persecution, political or religious. 'It is a free country and that, too, is why I feel at home.'"

Kennedy called on other nations to imitate the way the Irish won their independence.

"New nations can build with their former governing powers the same kind of fruitful relationship with Great Britain," the President said, "a relationship founded on equality and mutual interests."

He told his audience that "the heroic deeds," the most enduring literature have emerged from the small nations of the world.

"Ireland has already set a standard for other small nations to follow," he declared.

At the outset of his speech Kennedy presented to the Irish nation a flag of the Irish brigade which fought in the U.S. Civil War.

His remarks were punctuated by applause from a chamber packed with distinguished guests including Prime Minister Sean Lemass and U.S. Ambassador Matthew McCloskey.

Kennedy flew back to Dublin from Cork, where he was made a freeman of the city. There he told a cheering crowd that when he retires he will take great satisfaction "in not only being president of my country but a freeman of this city."

Housing Bill Is Signed By Gov. Dalton

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Any city, town or village could set up housing projects and use federal funds to help finance them under a bill signed by Gov. John M. Dalton today.

The old law limited the construction of Housing Authority projects to municipalities over 5,000.

Also signed was a bill to increase the salary of Jack Clay, state superintendent of insurance, from $12,000 to $15,000, the deputy superintendent, chief examiner and actuary from $9,000 to $12,000 and the chief clerk from $7,000 to $9,000.

Another bill signed will allow apartment dwellers or office tenants to buy, own and sell their apartment or office space the same as if it were an individual piece of real estate.

Unlike the residents of a cooperative apartment house, occupants of a so-called condominium project actually will own their space.

Other bills signed will: Set the election of school district directors in Springfield on the first Tuesday in April instead of November and limit board members to two consecutive terms.

Authorize an easement on St. Joseph State Hospital property for a city sewer.

Falling Machinery Crushes Hannibal Man

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—A piece of machinery fell and crushed W. F. Miller, 44, of Kansas City Thursday at a construction site, seven miles north of Hannibal. Miller died in St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Hannibal two hours after the accident in a quarry off U.S. 61.

JFK Visit To Ireland Baffling

Sentiment Nor Politics Explain Reason for Trip

By J. A. DEAR

DUBLIN — The one angle of Mr. Kennedy's ten-day European tour that baffles everyone is why, oh why, is he spending three precious days of his presidential life in Ireland. It can't be a sentimental journey because he isn't and anyway he's covered this route before. The political angle doesn't figure. It's an improbable place to assert one of his favorite themes: economic growth depends on freedom, and alas, Eire's government is unstable.

There had been a theory that Ireland was on the tour because it alone of the four nations on his schedule is untroubled by crisis, but an obscure argument over taxes has created a crisis here. It could be that the situation is obscure only to outsiders. One member of the Dail (pronounced "dull") declined to comment on the issues involved because "my views are well known," but the President is here, and his pace matches that of the 1960 campaign.

A week earlier, and he could have got the low down on the real source of the world's troubles right here on O'Connell Street. It isn't Communism, it's "British colonial imperialism." At least that's what this fellow told the crowd, which was celebrating the centennial of Wolfe Tone's birth. He was a leader of the 1798 insurrection, which was suppressed. In the pubs on the sidewalks Wolfe Tone is celebrated continuously, an early closing rule is rigorously enforced. In these establishments the serious proceedings—gauffing and singing—are punctuated with brief introductions like: "and this chap is recently released from the Belfast jail—a political prisoner." The songs are in minor key, and cata-

Hearing Dates Set In Two Sedalia Cases

Ronald Dean Barker, 19, and Larry G. Crews, 20, both of Springfield, were arraigned in Magistrate Court Friday morning on a charge of stealing over $50 in connection with the Monday night burglary of the Canteen Service, 2435 West Main, in which $1,566.70 was taken.

The two requested a preliminary hearing and Judge Frank Armstrong set the hearing date for Wednesday, July 10.

Barker and Crews were returned to the Pettis County jail in lieu of $2,500 bonds.

A preliminary hearing for Kenneth Floyd Yost, 22, 400 East Second, charged with child molestation, was set for Wednesday, July 10, in Magistrate Court Friday morning.

Judge Frank Armstrong set Yost's bond at $2,000 and he was returned to the Pettis County jail in lieu of the bond.

USW Gets $339,000 From Automation

FONTANA, Calif. (AP)—In the month of May, automation saved $1,020,000 for the Kaiser Steel Corp. Because of this, the firm announced Thursday, 4,400 workers will share $339,000.

Kaiser and the United Steelworkers of America last year worked out a profit-sharing plan designed to offset the problems of automation. Under the scheme union employees get back 22.5 per cent of any savings in steel production costs.

WITNESSES

Walter H. Meyer, of Route 4, Sedalia, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses in Sedalia, announced today that six members of the local congregation will be leaving soon as delegates to the first sessions of the "Around-the-World International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses for 1963" in Milwaukee, Wis.

According to Meyer, the eight-day convention will open June 30 at County Stadium while the Milwaukee Braves baseball club is on the road. Advance requests for overnight accommodations indicate upwards of 50,000 persons from 48 states including Alaska, Washington, D.C., and ten other countries will attend the gathering.

The Milwaukee meet will be the largest and longest convention ever held in that city. It will also be the first of 24 sessions composing the "Everlasting Good News" assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses this summer. After the County Stadium gathering, the convention will move to Yankee Stadium in New York City, followed by similar assemblies throughout Europe and Asia. This globe-encircling assembly will close Sept. 8 with an eight-day session at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California, Meyer said.

The principal speakers for the assembly will be Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and Fred W. Franz, vice-president. Both men are world travelers and well-known Bible lecturers. Although they will appear several times on the eight-day program, the most outstanding presentation will be the public address by Knorr at the County Stadium on Sunday, July 7, at 3 p.m., on the subject, "When God Is King Over All the Earth."

Local delegates that will attend are: Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Meyer, Mrs. R. W. Herron, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buffa and daughter, Rebecca.

The Rev. Cleo Gray has chosen "The Power of Jesus" for his morning sermon topic at East Broadway Christian Church.

Miss Catherine Garman at the organ will play "Tender Memories" by Herser; offertory, "A Quiet Prayer" by Hopkins; postlude, "Voix Seraphique" by Williams.

A special number will be sung by Mrs. Helen Whittington and Mrs. Frank Fowler at the morning service.

Bible study is at 7 p.m. Sunday. The evening service at 8 p.m. will have as its sermon topic, "What Is In Your Napkin?"

The state night at Tony's Rink which is held once a month will be Monday, July 1, at 7:30 p.m.

There were 53 people from East Broadway attending the youth rally last Monday night at the WCCS camp.

Choir practice will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A planning meeting was held Thursday night at the church at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is a monthly affair. Al Gardner's class was host and the devotion was given by Mrs. Wilbur Roe. Refreshments were served after the business session.

The Rev. Macdon Pigge and his choir from Fulton, Mo., will be at the Prairie Grove Baptist Church in Tipton Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

The choir's appearance is being sponsored by the WMU.

Bulgarian Orthodox Church

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — God and communism face each other on Sofia's Moskovska Boulevard. The red star atop the turreted Communist party headquarters looms higher than the cross on the gilded domes of St. Alexander Nevsky Cathedral.

It symbolizes the struggle of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church for survival in a duel fought behind a facade of outwardly smooth church-state relations.

The regime professes full freedom of religion. Churches usually are crowded on religious holidays. The sledgehammer methods of the 1950s, when church doors were nailed shut and parish priests thrown into jail, no longer are in evidence. Propaganda campaigns blaming the clergy for everything that goes wrong under Communist rule have ceased.

The party is under stern orders from Moscow to catch up with other East European regimes in cleansing itself of Stalinism—and that includes anticlerical violence.

The regime is resorting to psychological and economic warfare to undermine the church's influence among the predominantly Orthodox population of nearly eight million.

"They have refined their methods. But their aims have not changed."

Atheism is a regular subject in schools. One typical slogan in a first grade textbook reads: "God—who is that? Can you see him. Can you hear him? No. Is God dressing you and feeding you? No. It isn't God. It is the Communist party."

Several parents who sent their children to church were warned to stop. "I can't let the kids go to church any longer or I'll lose my job in the factory," a father of three said.

The regime's economic war has plunged the church into poverty. Monasteries throughout the country were allowed until a few years ago to operate farms and industrial enterprises on a small scale. Their property since has been nationalized. Most of the churches and monasteries were put under public administration under the pretext that the Orthodox clergy could not take care of the historic buildings.

The ancient, colorful places of worship, some of them dating to the earliest periods of Christianity, were turned into tourist attractions. The government pockets the fees.

Patriarch Cyril, 64, supreme Orthodox leader, is rated by the Westerners a figurehead.

On Easter, several hundred yelling, whistling youths burst into Nevsky Cathedral while the Patriarch was celebrating Easter service. Chanting "down with religion," the rioters wrecked chairs, damaged altar pictures and forced the white-haired Patriarch to withdraw from the cathedral. All the time a cordon of Bulgarian militia ringed the cathedral, keeping thousands of churchgoers out. But the militia did nothing to quell the riot. Westerners said the incident, never reported in the Sofia press, obviously was instigated by the regime.

A few weeks later, the government with much fanfare bestowed one of its highest decorations upon Cyril and praised his "patriotic work for peace."

Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., the monthly session of the Church Council will be held.

Astronaut to Study Eclipse July 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — An astronaut and a female astronomer will participate in a study of the sun during a total eclipse July 20, streaking across Canada by jet plane in the wake of the moon's shadow.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that in addition to the astronaut, as yet unpicked, and the astronomer, Dr. Jocelyn R. Gill, two researchers from the Ames Research Center at Moffett Field, Calif., will be aboard.

Their job will be to measure electronic effects of the sun while the total eclipse makes it easy to study the edges—or corona—of the sun.

Change of Speakers For VFW Convention

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Missouri Veterans of Foreign Wars, holding its 43rd annual convention in St. Louis, announced Thursday a change of featured speakers.

Albert H. Sonntag, director of the 9th Civil Service Region, will address the group at 10 a. m. Friday.

The originally scheduled speaker, Gen. Joe W. Kelly, commander of the Military Air Transport Service, was summoned to Europe and could not make the engagement.

Some 1,000 VFW members and auxiliary are in town for the convention.

Dale Herrick To Speak Sunday

Dale Herrick, ministerial student at Phillips University, will bring the message Sunday at First Christian Church. He has chosen as his sermon topic, "The Treasures That Christians Won't Claim."

Don King will lead the worship service. The special music will be an anthem by the Chancel and Chapel Choirs, "My God and I."

Boy Scout Troop 66 meets at the church Tuesday.

The church office will be closed Thursday, July 4.

First Baptist Sermon Topic For Sunday

The Sunday services at the First Baptist Church will begin with Sunday School for all ages at 9:30 a.m. The morning worship hour is at 10:45. "The Lordship of Christ" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon.

The Adult Choir will sing the anthem, "The Heart of God" by McAfee.

In the evening, the Training Union Hour is at 6:30. This is the time for the new members class to meet with the pastor in the conference room. Evening worship hour is at 7:45 with the Primary Choir singing for this service. The message will be "Fear and Faith" from Psalms 56:34.

The deacons of the church will meet in monthly business meeting on Monday at 7:30 in the conference room. The Mary and Martha class will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Wednesday is family night with the auxiliaries meeting at 6:45. The pre-school choir will rehearse at 7:40. All-church prayer meeting is at 7:45, and Adult Choir practice at 8:30.

The Woman's Missionary Society will have its monthly program meeting at 7:30 Thursday evening. Mrs. Sherman Bridgman is in charge of the program.

Saturday morning at nine the Primary choir will rehearse.

New Services Beginning At Christ Lutheran

In an effort to provide more room and more convenience, Christ Lutheran Church will add a second worship service beginning this Sunday. The new service necessitates a complete schedule change. The new schedule calls for identical worship services at 8:30 and 10:45. The Education Hour will be at 9:30, immediately after the first service and before the second.

A nursery will be maintained during the 10:45 service, and will be in the Parsonage Sunday School area. The mother's room will be available at both services. The congregation's radio program, "The Voice of Christ Lutheran," will continue at its 8:30 time each Sunday morning on KDRO.

Sunday's sermon theme at Christ Lutheran will be, "Do As Unto Christ." Other Sunday activities will include the Pastor's Class at 7:30 p.m., and a Luther League hayride, also at 7:30 p.m. The Luther Leaguers have invited the Stover Luther Leaguers to be their guests for the hayride and program.

Worth of Children Sermon Subject At Trinity Lutheran

The pastor's message at Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday will be "The Immortal Worth of Children."

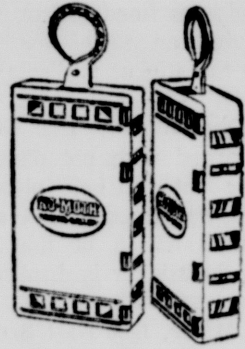

Mrs. Gertrude Fingland, church organist, will play "Invocation in A Minor" as prelude; "Morning Prayer" by Sergisson, offertory; and "Praise Him" by Richolson, postlude.

Danny Pahlow and Gary Kreiser will light the altar candles and E. E. Woolery and Billy Joe Woolery will be the ushers.

The church council will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fingland, 2314 South Ingram, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Headlee Wins Jaycee Race For Top Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dick Headlee assumed the presidency of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce today on the heels of a Jaycee award winner's charge that its leadership was "gutless" on the civil rights question.

Headlee, 32, a quiet-spoken man from Bountiful, Utah, won the presidency early today after a tumultuous and wearying election.

Sedalia's Dick Thomas was in third position on the first three ballots. Headlee took an early lead with 1,294 votes, Waner Marks was second with 943, Thomas had 685 and Bob Dillon was fourth with 513. A candidate needed 1,718 to win.

Dr. Clem Darrow, a member of the Sedalia Jaycees attending the four-day national convention, told the Democrat-Capital that Thomas' first concession to withdraw was shouted down by his delegation of supporters.

The more than 6,000 delegates at the election went through the fourth ballot with Headlee still having a clear lead of 1,294 votes. But this was some 500 short of the total needed.

Then after a hasty conference, the other three candidates—Waner Marks of Little Rock, Ark., Bob Dillon of Pittsfield, Mass., and Dick Thomas, Sedalia, Mo.—went to the rostrum, convinced, Dillon said, that "it is the majority will that another young man be elected."

This was greeted by loud and long protests and Blankenship then announced another ballot would be cast.

Dillon then conceded. During the voting, some of his backers went over to Headlee. Then Marks came up to the stand and withdrew. Some Marks supporters then switched to Thomas and for a time it appeared support for him was swelling. Then more got on the Headlee bandwagon and Thomas moved that Headlee be elected by unanimous vote. This followed.

A stormy note created by the Rev. Robert Castle Jr., on the rights question, continued in the mood of the convention which went through five ballots before Headlee won.

The election was the windup of the convention. Headlee, his wife and seven children now move to the organization's "White House" at Tulsa, Okla., where he will direct the 200,000-plus member group. Headlee, a Jaycee since 1958, is an account executive with Burroughs Corp.

Castle of Jersey City, N.J., was chosen one of 1962's ten outstanding young men by the Jaycees. He said he came to Louisville to try to have presented to the convention a petition offered by the 10 honorees that urged Jaycees to take specific steps toward better race relations.

The Episcopal minister said Doug Blankenship, outgoing national president, "has repeatedly stated there was 'no time' to present this petition."

Castle was prevented from speaking at the convention but spoke outside the hall.

Blankenship said, "There are certain procedures that even our members must follow to present a subject." He said he commended Castle for his concern for all the people of the world.

In national awards judging, the Sedalia Jaycees' monthly publication, the "Sedalia Jaycee," ranked third in population division three for cities of comparable size.

The 12-page offset magazine is edited by Larry Embry and printed by the Walker Publishing Company. Three years in a row the publication topped its division in Missouri, but the third place finish is the best ever received in national judging. There were entries from all 50 states.

Mr. Eldred grew up in Camden County and on March 31, 1923, was married to Oma Elliott, also of Macks Creek. The couple made their home near Macks Creek until 1930, when they moved to near Windsor. In addition to his parents, Mr. Eldred was preceded in death by a brother, Oral Eldred, and a sister, Ernell.

He was a member of the High Point Baptist Church.

Survivors include the wife of the home; two sons, Kenneth and Forrest Eldred, both of Windsor; a brother, Claude Eldred, Urbana; two sisters, Mrs. Ernie Eidson, Windsor; and Mrs. Bernard Eidson, Eugene, Ore., and five grand children.

Funeral services will be at the Gouge Funeral Home, Windsor, at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, with the Rev. Fred Raines officiating, assisted by the Rev. O. E. Farrier.

Burial will be in Laurel Oak Cemetery.

Ada Schlusing (Knob Noster)

Mrs. Ada Schlusing, 78, of Knob Noster, died early Friday morning at the Warrensburg Medical Center, where she had been a patient since June 20 following major surgery.

She was the former Ada Estes, daughter of the late Levi and Mary Johnson Estes, and was born on a farm north of Knob Noster Feb. 10, 1885.

She was married May 5, 1910, to Angus House of Knob Noster and they were parents of two children. Mr. House was manager of the Knob Noster Mutual Telephone Company and she operated the switchboard. Following his death in April, 1931, she managed the telephone company until 1938.

In 1939 she was married to Henry C. Schlusing, who preceded her in death April 19, 1961. Her entire life was spent in the Knob Noster area.

Mrs. Schlusing was an active member of the Knob Noster Methodist Church, was a member of the official church board, Knob Noster Chapter No. 106, Order of the Eastern Star, and was president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Knob Noster Cemetery Association.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Richard E. (Virginia) Thurston, Warrensburg; a son, Glyndon House, Kansas City; two grandchildren, Richard H. Thurston, San Anselmo, Calif.; James A. Thurston, Warrensburg; and a sister, Mrs. Ona Fisher, Miami, Fla.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Knob Noster Methodist Church with the Rev. Kenneth Diehl officiating.

Burial will be in the Knob Noster Cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Saults-Brauninger Funeral Home in Knob Noster after 2 p.m. Saturday.

Schumaker's DX To Change Hands

Schumaker's D-X service station on South Limit is to change hands Monday.

Salty Schumaker announced Friday that the station will be taken over and operated by Ray Causal and Gene Meyer, both of Sedalia.

Schumaker has been operating the D-X bulk plant here since the retirement of Gordon Potter on May 6. He said he will continue to operate the bulk plant.

'Ice And Snow Ahead' And Its 99 Degrees

SECAUCUS, N.J. (AP)—Travelers driving along the New Jersey Turnpike in 99-degree weather had visions of relief Wednesday when an electric sign cautioned: "Drive Slow—Ice and Snow."

State police explained that somehow a radio signal transmitted to control turnpike caution signs had gone haywire. A button was pushed and the sign blinked out.

Tibetan Revolt Seen

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Chinese Nationalist Cabinet minister predicted Wednesday an anti-Communist revolt in Tibet on the scale of the eruption in 1959 will occur there soon.

Tien Chun-chin, chairman of the Tibet and Mongolian Affairs Commission, made the prediction at a meeting of Parliament.

Accidents

Woodrow Ward, 49, 601 South Monticau, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Thursday for an injured left foot by Dr. J. C. Brazos. The injury reportedly occurred when Ward jumped from a truck last week.

Wilma Grandfield, Amaheim, Calif., was treated at Bothwell Hospital Thursday by Dr. J. C. Brazos for an injury to her right foot, suffered when she stepped on a rusty needle in the little toe region, according to reports.

Two cars were damaged in a collision at 9:28 p.m. Wednesday in the 2200 block of South Limit at the entrance to Colie's Drive-In.

Involved, according to police, were a 1961 Dodge, driven by Frankie M. Boyd, 57, 501 North Prospect, and a 1953 Cadillac sedan, driven by William F. Worley, 38, Shawnee, Kan.

The right side of the Boyd car and the right front of the Worley auto were reported damaged.

There were no injuries in a rear-end collision on Broadway near Park about 5:07 p.m. Thursday.

Damaged were the rear end of a 1956 Dodge driven by James W. Goodrich, 23, 1906 West Fourth, and the front end of a 1957 Chevrolet driven by John W. Sellman, 21, Warrensburg.

Both vehicles were westbound on Broadway, when the car in front of the Dodge reportedly stopped to make a left turn onto Park Ave. Both cars left the scene under their own power.

A farm wagon broke loose from a tractor, knocked down a mailbox and broke a concrete walk at 601 East Boonville at 8:10 a.m. Friday.

Police reported the driver of the tractor was Ralph Hull, 56, Route 2. The tractor was pulling two farm wagons and the rear wagon broke loose.

The mailbox and concrete walk were at the residence of Mrs. Oscar Hasfurther, police reported.

Cleo Dureau, 29, of Pete's Trailer Court, Marshall Junction, received a laceration on the forehead and right ear about 2:20 a.m. Friday morning when his car struck the Muddy Creek bridge on Highway 65 about six miles north of Sedalia.

Trooper Richard Joos, who investigated for the Highway Patrol, said Dureau was northbound in a 1963 Buick, apparently went to sleep and the car hit the bridge. The car damaged guard railings on the east side of the bridge and then bounced across striking the west side.

Dureau was brought to Bothwell Hospital in a private car where he was treated and admitted. Dureau is employed by the ITT Kellogg Company.

The wrecked car was towed in by a wrecker from Salty's DX Station.

Granville Thomas Jones, 406 West Jefferson, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Friday morning for injuries to fingers on the right hand. The report indicates he received the injury when an iron door fell on his hand while at work at the Crown Drug Store. He was treated by Dr. D. K. Kirby, then released.

Lillie Gerken, Kansas City, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Friday morning for a neck injury she reportedly received when she slipped on a rug. She was treated by Dr. D. C. Proctor, then released.

Eugene Carter, Pilot Grove, employed by the ITT Kellogg Co., was treated at Bothwell Hospital Friday morning for pains in the right side and leg. It was reported he received the injuries when he was pinned by a gantry at Fortuna. He was treated by Dr. D. K. Kirby, then released.

Charles Bennett, 1805 West 18th, reported his white gold Waltham wrist watch taken from his 1951 Plymouth while it was parked at Second and Lamine Wednesday evening.

A motor scooter was reported stolen at 7:35 p.m. Thursday from a garage at 320 North Park. Bob Estes, owner of the scooter, said the garage was not locked. The vehicle was valued at approximately $60.

Boys were reported shooting shooting firecrackers at 24th and Ohio about 7:45 p.m. Thursday. They were talked to by an officer. There reportedly was a church service in progress nearby.

Vandals shot out a street light at 12th and Brown at 10:55 p.m. Thursday. One minute after receiving this report police were told someone was trying to shoot out a street light at 17th and Brown. Police were unable to make an apprehension.

Arthur Thomas Ward, Windsor, reported his 1959 Chevrolet stolen from 16th and Ohio at about 12:30 a.m. Friday.

Police later found the car on the city parking lot at Third and Lamine. Ward told police he had left the keys in the car, but they were missing when the auto was recovered.

Police Court

Wayne Robert McKowen, Route 1, Windsor, charged with speeding 50 miles per hour in a 30 mile zone, forfeited a $20 bond.

James L. Kester, 817 West Third, charged with not purchasing a city sticker, forfeited a $10 bond.

Ray Cunningham, 804 West Third, charged with not displaying a city auto sticker, pleaded guilty and was fined $10. A stay was granted on $5 of the fine providing the sticker is displayed.

Jerry Oberhelman, 1900 West Third, charged with not displaying a city auto sticker, pleaded guilty and was fined $10. A stay was granted on $5 of the fine providing the sticker is displayed.

Roy A. Miller, 1206 East Broadway, charged with blocking a sidewalk, forfeited a $2 bond.

3rd Straight Success For Minuteman II

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The third straight successful launching of an early Wing 2 model of the Minuteman missile has opened the way for the first test firing of what the air force terms the "all-up" Wing 2 missile.

The early model propelled an instrumented nose cone more than 4,000 miles Thursday night after darting out of an underground launching pit. The intercontinental range missile tested many components designed for the all-up Wing 2, which is being developed for greater range, payload and accuracy than the operational Wing 1 Minuteman.

JFK

Most of the Teddy Boys could double for Senator Edward Kennedy. Same chin, same shock of hair falling toward the eye. In fact, Kennedy features are commonplace in Ireland. That's probably why Andrew Minihan, chairman of the Urban Council, New Ross, is confident the President has closer relations in Ireland than those he is seeing at Dunganstown. This wee metropolis consists of two houses on a country lane. (It is alleged there is a third house in the area.)

From the homestead one Patrick Kennedy, the supposed forebearer of the President, went to New Ross to embark for the United States. The county seat in these parts is Wexford. Hence Mr. Kennedy's visit to this area. As for the homestead: according to Minihan, a balding, bearded talker with flashing eye, "it is to be doubted" that an original stone of the manse remains. A paved courtyard was put down several weeks ago, and this has eliminated the gamy aroma of the area. Said one reporter, female, and on viewing the scene, "Well, Jackie wouldn't live here, that's for sure." Efforts to elicit additional information from the neighbors were unsuccessful. These taciturn folk regard inquiries as "an invasion of our privacy," though they will sell souvenirs.

The Irish are friendly people. As one of their officials said: "Our affection for the United States is demonstrated by the tolerance we have shown for your ambassadors." The present ambassador, Mat McCloskey was expected. And it could be that the President is doing this all for him or maybe it's for his father.

Sedalia Firm Is Talk Topic

A review of one of Sedalia's most substantial firms—the Howard Construction Company—which had a modest beginning with a few trucks and minor equipment some years ago, was given by Daniel L. Wolfe, controller for that company, speaking before fellow Kiwanians at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Supplementing his remarks was a film presentation of activities of the firm in highway, bridge construction, and quarry operations. Assisting on the program was Russell K. Evans, field representative of Dean-Hanes Equipment Company.

Kiwanians were impressed with the magnitude of the Howard company's operations including ten corporations which at peak employment have as many as 500 employees. The annual payroll is $1,640,000. Total contracts on hand approximate $13,952,000 throughout Missouri.

The importance of Sedalia of the Howard Co., which is operated by Marvin and Olen Howard, brothers, was stressed by Wolfe in the fact that nearly $4,000,000 of the contract work is in this area. One is the Urban plan construction on Highway 65. The area payroll approximates $1,046,000. Furthermore the main office and maintenance shop is located in Sedalia. Many of the personnel reside here.

Interest in the story of the Howard companies was indicated by an extended question and answer period.

Invocation was by Job Harned. Dr. Gale T. Holzman, new Sedalia dentist, was inducted as a new member in a ceremony conducted by Jack Shoemaker assisted by L. R. Hughes, Jr.

Dr. J. C. Alexander, president, announced that Vice-President M. L. Edwards and Director L. R. Hughes, Jr., were leaving for Atlantic City as delegates from the local club to the international convention.

He called attention of members to the meeting scheduled for next week which will include a joint session with the Lions club on Wednesday and a round table meeting July 4 in Bothwell Hotel.

Nobody's perfect.

Many Volkswagens have driven 60,000 miles on the original pistons and cylinders. Common tire wear is 40,000 miles.

But it's a mistake to regard the Volkswagen as indestructible. Like any good machine, it does not thrive best on neglect.

This is why we give you a book on preventive maintenance covering each 30,000 miles your VW drives.

In the book for new VWs, for instance, perforated slips tell exactly what service should be performed at 300 miles (no labor charge). At 3,000 miles (no labor charge). And at every 3,000 miles after that. This should keep your car in crack running order.

Good service is so important, the Volkswagen people will not sell the VWs where they cannot be handled by us, their own factory-trained mechanics.

You are as welcome at our VW service department as the day you bought the car.

Parts are economical. Quickly installed.

There isn't a Volkswagen in the world we can't get you parts for. Most are interchangeable from year to year. (We can put a 1963 fender on your '52 model with just ten bolts. It fits perfectly.)

Volkswagen service is as good as the car.

Record Sunday Planned For Faith Baptist

"Record Breaking Sunday" will be observed at the Faith Baptist Church this Sunday.

This is a concentrated attempt to break all former records for the Sunday School. The previous high was 129 and a goal of 150 has been set for this occasion. An added attraction will be the breaking of a phonograph record over the head of all teachers and superintendents of all classes and departments who exceed their previous high attendance. This will take place immediately after the Sunday School hour.

The topic for the morning message will be "The Faithful Friend who Became a Faithless Friend" — a sermon on the life of Judas Iscariot. "My Burdens Rolled Away" will be sung by the choir. Mrs. Mel Crumbliss will sing "Until Then."

In the evening service "The Genesis Creation: Fact or Fable, Miracle or Myth" will be the topic. This sermon deals with the question of evolution and the reliability of the Genesis account of creation. "Each Step I Take" will be sung by Mrs. Harold Ryan and Mrs. Roger Martin. The choir will present "Joy in Serving Jesus."

Fred Brummet will speak to the young people immediately following the evening service.

Miss Janis Spry Is June Bride Of J. S. Lilly

In a double ring ceremony at six o'clock in the evening, Saturday, June 1, Miss Janis Faye Spry, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Stanley Lilly at First Assembly of God Church. The Rev. Floyd T. Buntbach performed the ceremony before a background of large bouquets of red roses, green fern and white candles in double light blue china candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Spry, 1418 East Seventh, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Franklin, 506 South New York.

Miss LaVerna Baldwin played organ selections.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of silk organza over Chantilly lace, with a scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her silk illusion veil was held in place by a crown tiara of pearls and crystal. She wore a single strand of pearls. Her gloves were wrist length and of white lace. She carried a corsage of white carnations with pink rosebuds, cascading on pink streamers.

Mrs. Wayne Spry, North Kansas City, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress was a light blue jersey. She also wore white lace gloves and hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mr. Wayne Spry, North Kansas City, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church.

Large white wedding bells and white streamers decorated the reception room. The bridal table was covered with a white lace cloth and tall white candles. Mrs. Frances King, Nelson and Miss

Mrs. Thomas Lilly

Carletta Dodd, Kansas City, served.

Miss Sherry Spry, North Kansas City, and Miss Jeanie Franklin assisted at the guest book.

The couple is at home at 1413 East Seventh.

The bride attended Smith-Cotton High School and is employed

Tune-Up Driving Reflexes

If statistical predictions run true to form, human error and lack of judgment will account for 50,000 casualties on the nation's highways the latter part of next week, commonly referred to as the July 4 weekend. That's nearly five times the total casualties during eight years of the Revolutionary War.

What a way to celebrate Independence Day! A chilling simile can be drawn on this occasion — the characteristic independence of many drivers who won't give a hoot about violating the most elementary safety precautions going from here to there and back.

Sedalians should pray the grim estimates of the Travelers Insurance Company don't come true next week. Yet more than prayer will be required. The good Lord will need a heap of help from every individual motorist who dares to compete on the road with death's challenge.

It may be pointed out the same determination to drive carefully on the open highways applies to operating a motor vehicle on city streets in Sedalia or elsewhere. This is evident when one considers that traffic deaths on streets in Missouri cities with more than 10,000 population jumped 37.5 per cent during the first five months of this year compared to the same period in 1962.

Never before has the urban area death toll matched this year's record of 99 deaths from January 1 through May 31, according to records of the Missouri Highway Patrol.

This is a sickly revelation that ought to make every motorist give studied thought to the bleak prospect of making a journey in jeopardy on the highways behind the wheel of a motorized vehicle next week.

Since it is impractical to suggest everyone stay off the highways during the holiday period when there will be excessive traffic and increased hazards, about the only plea that can be made is for the venturesome to use particular caution, courtesy and consideration.

These, and tuning up your driving reflexes, are prime factors in minimizing highway deaths and injuries.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH: Making Record Hits.—Should ratings of phonograph records be subjected to the same sort of scrutiny a congressional committee is giving a television and radio ratings? We believe they should. In the trade, including journals that publish lists of hits, the TV-radio inquiry has already provoked suggestions of self-policing to avoid a public investigation. But in this 600-million-dollar a year industry would self-investigation be sufficient?

Hit lists can be rigged, and when they are, markets are created for the listed records in unfair competition with other records. A New Jersey wholesaler says he can get stores to rig their reports of best-sellers by giving them free records. An executive of Billboard magazine says he turned down a $3,000 bribe to put a record on his charts. A New England radio station official says reports can be rigged by a distributor through hiring "a couple of kids to call the station hundreds of times and ask for a certain record."

Perhaps no really fool-proof way will ever be found of protecting consumers who know so little of what they really want that they

Washington Merry-Go-Round

JFK Pushing Weapons Nobody Wants

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Behind President Kennedy's decision not to press Prime Minister Macmillan for a multi-lateral striking force was the advice of Chancellor Adenauer to delay, plus very cold water poured on the project by leaders of the British Labor party. The man who will be the next defense minister of England has assured Kennedy in very forceful terms that the Labor Government, when it takes office, will not go for the MLF.

George Brown, No. 2 man in the labor party and the so-called "shadow minister for defense," was in Washington most of last month telling everyone around Kennedy and finally the President himself that Great Britain, under Labor, would not want a multi-lateral nuclear force; that it was too costly, too vulnerable, too impractical. Even if Macmillan accepted it, the Labor party would not be bound by his commitment.

George Brown is charming, intelligent, and above all frank. Various of JFK's staff tried to change his mind. Finally, as he was about to see the President for a final session, McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's defense adviser, remonstrated: "Do you really mean that you and Wilson believe this?"

He referred to Harold Wilson, who will be the next Labor prime minister.

"Why do you think we put it down in writing?" replied Brown. "When I go in there," and he motioned to the President's door—"I'm going to ask him 'Do you and Lyndon Johnson really mean this?'"

British Labor Alternative

The next British defense minister not only gave very good reasons why the next Labor government will be opposed to arming surface vessels with nuclear weapons but proposed some sensible alternatives. He also assured Kennedy that Labor will be as good or a better ally than the conservatives.

"You see we don't go around wearing the Union Jack on our waists," he said.

Brown proposed that all nuclear weapons be turned over to the United States, including Britain's. It is too expensive for the two allies to duplicate each other on nuclear research and stockpiling. With the money thus saved, he proposed bolstering British naval defenses in the Far East where the United States is weak and is having trouble in Laos. In that area, Brown proposed British floating naval bases to operate in conjunction with the American Seventh Fleet.

Unofficially, Brown's position gets a lot of support from the U.S. military. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, commander of NATO, has sent a report to Washington that he is dead opposed to the 25 surface ships armed with nuclear weapons he is supposed to command.

The Russians have already demonstrated how they can spot U.S. carriers in the mid-Atlantic. Therefore a surface fleet would be even more vulnerable in the narrow waters of the North Sea and the Mediterranean.

Secretary of Defense McNamara, flying to Colorado Springs with British Air Minister Hugh Fraser last month, leaned over backward to be impartial and gave the arguments against the MLF—that it would cost the British one-half of 200,000,000 pounds, was difficult to man and vulnerable to attack.

Finally the Italians, Belgians, and other NATO countries — except Germany — don't want it. And the British, who were denied the Skybolt air-to-air missile on the ground of expense, now find themselves urged to take the MLF surface fleet at even greater expense—even though it's unwieldy and vulnerable.

The big question, therefore, is why the Kennedy administration is so anxious to sell a weapon which its allies—barring Germany—don't want.

The real answer is De Gaulle.

Itchy German Fingers

When De Gaulle began making the Common Market an exclusive European club and simultaneously began wooing Germany, the State Department got worried. It feared the new Franco-German alliance meant French nuclear know-how would be given Germany. There is nothing the Germans want more than nuclear weapons. Yet there is nothing its eastern neighbors, led by Russia, fear more than nuclear weapons in the hands of the former Nazi military.

So as a compromise the State Department began pushing the idea of surface ships armed with nuclear missiles, manned with German, American, British NATO crews, on which an American commander would hold the key to the missile control box.

Politically this may be a good idea. But otherwise the NATO allies are either negative or skeptical.

That's why President Kennedy will not do any hard selling with Prime Minister Macmillan regarding the MLF, and why this much publicized project will probably be discreetly put on the shelf, never to be revived.

Anglo-American Notes

Rear Admiral Ignatius Galantin, the Navy's special projects officer, tried to convince George Brown that the nuclear-equipped surface fleet was practical because enemy planes would have to fly very close to see whether nuclear missiles were on board. But has any one seen enemy planes in time of war worrying whether merchant ships were armed or not? . . . British Labor leaders are much more enthusiastic about keeping NATO ground forces in Europe than Macmillan, would probably bring Britain's troop complement in Germany up to full strength.

The World Today

Lot of Talking In Projects Push

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This was a week in which the Kennedy brothers did a lot of talking to push their projects and, except for one blast by the President, carefully avoided irritations on both sides of the Atlantic.

But they hardly said anything new.

West Germans turned out by the millions to cheer President Kennedy, who made a number of speeches and held a news conference. Yet, his only departure from the usual was an assault on French President de Gaulle.

In Washington Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy spent a day explaining and urging the administration's civil rights program and, in the course of it, made a concession which was no surprise.

The President cut loose on De Gaulle for suggesting this country might not come to the defense of its allies if they were attacked. His rebuke was a challenge to De Gaulle's attempt to lead, or dominate, Europe.

After a couple of days of thinking it over, De Gaulle replied through his information minister that the French government never doubted Kennedy's determination to stand by Europe. But then he threw in the hook: No one can tell what Kennedy's successor will do.

In this roundabout way De Gaulle got back to the very position which caused Kennedy to let go at him: Don't trust America to come to Europe's defense if the going gets rough.

The men, having gone this far, have the choice of laying off each other or going after each other. If they choose the latter it hardly can strengthen the alliance.

West German politicians have found it expedient to keep drumming up the hope that West Germany and Communist East Germany can be reunited, although they haven't been saying much about it lately.

And no wonder. After 18 years of separation such talk begins to sound unreal, even to the most hopeful Germans. Last month a poll of West Germans showed 15 per cent thought talks between the two Germanys would lead to much.

So Kennedy could be accused of neither pessimism nor weakness but only—as he himself said—of facing reality when he said he saw no early solution to a divided Germany. He held out hope for it some day.

The other main points in Kennedy's talks before the cheering millions in Germany, none of them new: He pledged again American determination to defend West Berlin and the allies; He plugged for a strong Atlantic partnership and a Common Market and he suggested the allies pay more of the bill for helping backward countries.

The main purpose of his trip seemed to be to create as much good will for this country as he could. Judging by the crowds and their happy reactions, he succeeded admirably.

But as for solutions to the problems with and among the allies: none was expected before he left and, so far as can be seen, he neither offered any nor achieved any.

In this country, in a day of dissubstitution with a House judiciary subcommittee, the attorney general defended the administration's civil rights bill, particularly its so far most controversial part.

This was the section calling upon Congress by law to ban business places from discriminating against Negroes. The way the administration laid it down practically every business place would be so banned.

It was pretty widely guessed the administration would make some concessions on this in order to placate the opposition and get most of the bill through.

The attorney general agreed to a concession: that very small business places might be excluded from the ban and left free to discriminate. Trying to figure out where the ban begins and leaves off is going to be one of the thorniest problems of 1963.

'Iron' Comfort Into Shoes

By Polly Cramer

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — Sometimes the back of a new shoe rubs the heel of the foot, causing a painful blister. To make the shoe more comfortable, moisten the inside of the top back portion of the shoe where binding is seen. Then heat the handle of an old metal knife on the top burner of the stove in the same way you would heat a curling iron. When the knife is hot, pick it up with a good thick potholder and press the hot handle back and forth over the moistened portion of the inside of the shoe. This smooths out any roughness and also slightly stretches this part of the shoe. — MRS. E. E. W.

GIRLS — Mrs. E. E. W.'s hint has certainly made a pair of shanting pumps and a pair of leather walking shoes more comfortable for me. Do not "wet," but merely moisten, the inside back of the shoe. I used a sponge. The same trick also helped pumps that were tight over the top of my foot. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When sewing interfacing and facing in a garment, cut the edges of each a slightly different length, just a fourth of an inch variance, and your seam will lay much flatter. — D. M. B.

GIRLS — This slight tapering of facings certainly gives a neater and more professional look to many garments — another of those "Why didn't I think of that?" hints. — POLLY size ash tray for your KING? Use an automobile hub cap. Some of them even have little grooves that just fit cigarettes.

DEAR POLLY — Need a KING-

When you are out of copper polish, toothpaste will do a good cleaning job on copper pots, etc. — MARJORIE

GIRLS — Big hub cap ash trays would be good for the lawn or terrace and keep the lawn from being littered with burned out cigarette or cigar ends. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When we bought a new power lawn mower, my husband removed the motor and all the bolts from the old one. It had good rubber tires and handle and now serves as a cart for rolling the garbage cans out to where they are emptied. The Pointers are a great help to me. — MRS. B. H. W.

DEAR POLLY — When you send a birthday card to a friend, enclose a package of favorite flower seeds — a new variety just on the market or some of your own flower seeds with the name and instructions for planting. — E. E.

GIRLS — One idea leads to another. When you take a bouquet of your own garden flowers to a friend and the blooms happen to include a new or unusual flower, attach a card to the bouquet giving the name of the bloom. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When you're ready to cook frozen vegetables, fill the open space in the top of the bag or box with cold water and the frozen contents will slide out easily. — MRS. J. F. D.

GIRLS — My right-hand helper uses this method all the time, but suggests you go to the sink before putting the water in the frozen food container. — POLLY

MRS. RALPH REED (2401 East 10th St.)—Hooray for Mrs. Sheffield. I agree with her 100 per cent. We don't seem to have enough money to run school buses next year and I have a little six-year-old girl who will have to walk to school. But the school board can throw away $460 just because most of the board favors the unions. Well, unions are all right in their place but I believe Ideal Printing Co. more than deserved the school contract printing. I strongly suggest the school board use much wiser judgment in spending the taxpayers' money in the future.

Learn to Make the Most Of Our Air-Conditioning

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We are in the season when those who have air conditioners turn them on and when all of us find ourselves going in and out of air-conditioned stores, offices, restaurants and theaters. How will this affect you?

Some persons sleep better in a room that is air-conditioned while others, especially if they use a single-room unit, may prefer to get the room comfortably cool before retiring, and then turn off the machine. In either case, a good night's sleep in hot weather will greatly improve your spirits.

In summer when the relative humidity is high, bringing air into the room from the outside and cooling it will increase the relative humidity and hence the chilling effect.

Many houses in areas near large bodies of water are kept comfortable throughout the summer by means of a dehumidifier in the basement. This requires that the windows be kept closed to exclude the warm, humid air.

When air conditioning was first introduced, there was a tendency to bring the indoor temperature down too drastically.

It is now recognized that people are more comfortable if the temperature is reduced to only 10 to 15 degrees below the outside official temperature (the official temperature is always taken in the shade), provided the humidity is also reduced. This holds true even for the hottest days.

One of the chief problems in this regard, and one that is not likely to be solved, is that everyone has his own individual rate of metabolism. What is comfortable for one person may be uncomfortable for another.

The person who has arthritis, for example, is likely to react with joint discomfort to even a slight chilling of the surrounding air.

On the other hand, air-conditioning is a great blessing to anyone who has heart disease. This is because, when the temperature approaches the normal body heat, the heart must work harder to circulate blood through the skin and thus cool it.

This added burden will be readily accepted by the normal heart, but will embarrass a heart that has been weakened by a coronary attack, or a leaky valve.

Air-conditioning is likewise a great help to persons with asthma or hay fever because it filters the offending pollens out of the air that is brought inside. This protection lasts, however, only as long as the victim remains in the room where the air is filtered.

Whether you are benefited or made worse by air-conditioning, you can be sure that some form of air-conditioning is here to stay. Every year its use is being extended to more and more facilities, both public and private.

It is wise, especially for women, to carry a light wrap even on the hottest days, and to wear it when going into an air-conditioned store or office where the difference in temperature is too great for comfort. This is especially important for those who must sit close to the cold-air intake fan.

The Mature Parent

Down With Mother's Day

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

At 10 a.m. on Sunday this past May 12 a young woman I know was asleep in her one-room apartment. That was Mother's Day, you'll recall—that day of spring when we Americans make national sacrifice, not to the old heathen's earth goddess Demeter, but to Mom, Mommy, Mother O' Mine, the Best Pal I Ever Had, the She Whose Brow I Furrowed With Care, etc. etc. Her telephone rang. It was her Mommy via long distance wanting to know if she knew what day it was.

Struggling out of sleep, my young friend said confusedly, "What day? Oh, Happy Mother's Day, Mamma. Did you get my flowers? I wired. . . ."

"Nothing has come," said Mamma. "But then I didn't expect anything. I have learned not to expect anything from you. So I am calling you instead of waiting around here for you to remember what day this is. You better cancel your flower order. It's too late for them now."

How much of this kind of thing goes on Mother's Day?

I don't like Mother's Day. I'm a mother and I don't like it.

I don't like it because its glorification of us mothers is not good for us. I think it gives us delusions of grandeur, and either encourages us to intoxicate ourselves with the smell of incense burned at our altars by our child worshippers or plunge into the dumps because the flowers and greetings cards have not arrived. I think it's hard on us to play Queen For a Day on Sunday and find ourselves back on earth on Monday, dethroned, with the knowledge that we're right back where we were on Saturday before we took our pose on the pedestal. I think it leaves us subtly dissatisfied with the realization that the Day of Idolatry is over.

What was it that God said to Moses on Mount Sinai? "Thou shalt have no other gods before me. Thou shalt not bow thyself down to them nor serve them."

That commandment extends to the worship of mothers.

Mother's Day always embarrasses me. I try to go along with it. I say "Thank you" for the flowers, the perfume, the greeting cards. But they embarrass me. And I know why. They embarrass me because I don't like forced acknowledgement. I don't value appreciation compelled by public pressure. I much prefer an "I'll do the dishes, Mother" when I am tired. I prefer human awareness to human needs every day in the week to one day's extravagant and compulsive idolatry.

We the Women

Wanted: Weekend Mothers

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Have you ever thought of embarking on a business career as a "Weekend Mother?"

The suggestion is prompted by a letter from a middle-aged widow who is disturbed by the fact she can't get a job because of her age and lack of business training. "I don't have job experience, it's true," she says. "But I've had years of experience in running a home."

"What are women my age supposed to do? I have to supplement my income, but nobody is willing to give me a chance."

There must be a lot of women in the same position. This is reflected in my mail.

I believe many of these women could solve their problem by running an advertisement in their local newspaper that would read something like this:

"Weekend Mother. Willing to come into your home and run it and look after your children. Experience: 20 years of managing my own home and taking care of my own children."

So often I hear the parents of young children say: "If Bob and I could only get away for a weekend occasionally. But we haven't anyone to leave with the children that we can trust."

A "weekend mother" wouldn't have to feel like a servant or just a baby sitter. She would be temporarily replacing the mother, which means she would be taking on a job of real responsibility and trust.

For the woman who was a happy and successful homemaker and mother the job is really ideal.

And there's one other thing. She needn't consider her age as a handicap, since most young couples feel safer in leaving their children with a settled, middle-aged woman than with a younger person.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: At first I just scolded when my "friend" pretended to be a little high. Liquor is supposed to excuse all those cute passes at my husband. Now I'm in flames.

This has been going on for quite some time but I've hated to let anyone know how it infuriates me. After last Saturday night I think I should tell the bimbo off.

After a few martinis, this so-called social register dame jumped on my husband's lap, fell into his arms, and invited him to crawl behind the sofa with her in search of an earring. All this under the guise of being loaded, of course. In the meantime she could drink any truck driver under the table.

I am fed up on the whole disgusting business, but I need a more level head than mine to decide what to do about it. — FIRE IN WHITE PLAINS

Dear Fire: This "Don't blame me, I'm drunk" routine is as old as the grape.

It's always a mistake to tell another woman to leave your husband alone. It usually encourages the wench. She'll figure you are frightfully insecure and decide that maybe she does have a chance after all.

Wildly aggressive females who throw themselves at men look cheap. If the wife can handle the situation with dignity this kind of character will look even cheaper. Keep your head up and your mouth closed.

Dear Ann Landers: I work in an office where all the girls get along pretty well. Two of these girls told me they did not want to open up charge accounts because they were afraid they'd be tempted to spend more money than they should. So they asked if they could charge on my account. They promised to have the money in my hands by the time the bill came due.

For the first couple of months it worked fine. They paid as promised. But for the past four months I've had nothing but trouble.

One girl "forgets" what she bought and I have to track down sales slips to prove it was her purchase and not mine. The other girl is always broke. NOW she owes me for articles she charged in March.

If I tell them they can't use my charge account any more it will break up our friendship. Please tell me what to do. — SUPER-CHARGED

Dear Super: Tell both girls you are closing your charge account —and then go ahead and do it. When you re-open the account

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a 45-year-old father who addresses his nine-year-old son as "Sweetie Pie?"

I have begged my husband to stop it. If any of the kids in the neighborhood hear him the boy will be teased unmercifully. "Sweetie Pie" is not a nickname of endearment. My husband uses it when he is annoyed with the boy — which is about 90% of the time.

We have two other sons and my husband has never given them any nicknames. I believe he is actually hostile to this particular child and this is his way of teasing him. What can I do about it? —UNHAPPY MOTHER

Dear Mother: Your husband sounds like a kid himself. Tell him to cut it out or his son will grow up to despise him — if he doesn't already.

Confidential to SUSPICIOUS WIFE: That makes two of us. There is a difference between good sound reasons, and reasons that sound good.

Spotlight Glares On Luplow, Power

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the fury of the American League pennant chase, the spotlight glares on Al Luplow and Vic Power.

Luplow, Cleveland outfielder, made a spectacular diving catch of Dick Williams' bid for a three-run homer in the eighth inning and preserved a 6-4 triumph over third-place Boston Thursday.

Power, Minnesota first baseman, threw a punch at Detroit pitcher Phil Regan and was ejected from the game during a 10-6 triumph over the Tigers that moved the Twins to within three games of first-place New York.

The Chicago White Sox downed the Yankees 6-0 as Ray Herbert pitched a five-hitter for his sixth shutout and second over New York while pulling the White Sox to within eight percentage points of the front-runners.

In the only other game scheduled, Washington used home runs by Jim King, Don Zimmer and Hobbie Landrith to top Kansas City 4-2.

Red Sox Manager Johnny Pesky didn't believe the unbelievable catch should have deprived Williams of a homer, because the ball was caught in the bullpen and the game under protest. Umpire Joe Paparella ruled it a sacrifice fly, scoring La Clinton from third base.

Luplow, inserted into the line-up as a defensive replacement, started racing to his right as soon as Williams connected with the Ted Abernathy pitch, man meeting ball at the bullpen wall about 380 feet from home plate.

Luplow leaped, speared the ball and then tumbled over the five-foot bullpen wall and disappeared. A second later, wildly waving the glove—with the ball nestled in it—he reappeared.

Jerry Kindall, Max Alvis and Gene Green homered for the Indians in support of Barry Latman, 5-3. Carl Yastrzemski and Russ Nixon homered for the Red Sox. Wilbur Wood, 0-4, took the loss.

Power took his poke at Regan after the Tiger pitcher had walked in the fifth inning. Regan appeared to block the punch, but a short scuffling match followed before the umpires intervened. Power was thrown out, and drew an automatic $50 fine.

The Twins first baseman said the argument began in the fourth inning when he took a mighty swing at a Regan pitch.

"He tells me," said Power, "if I swing like that again he's going to throw the ball at my tail. I guess I swing too hard for him."

Regan said, "Power was leaning far over the plate trying to hit my breaking pitches. I told him 'don't do that or you're liable to get hit with a pitch.'"

Jimmy Hall and Harmon Killebrew cracked homers for the Twins while Killebrew, Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles each collected three hits in a 14-hit attack that made it easy for Jim Perry, 8-4. Terry Fox, 3-4, was the loser.

The White Sox jolted Jim Bouton, 10-3, for 10 hits in five innings and breezed behind Herbert, 8-4, to their fifth victory in six games with the Yankees this season.

Home runs by King and Zimmer, his first in the AL, gave Washington a 2-0 lead. Ed Brinkman singled home what turned out to be the decisive run in the sixth and Landrith added insurance with his seventh inning homer. Norm Siebern homered for the A's. Bennie Daniels, 1-4, was the winner. Dave Wickersham, 5-7, the loser.

It was Post 16 over Optimist in the second "A" game, 15-4. Mike Jarvis was the winner on the mound, with Bob Bechtel chalking up the loss for Optimist.

In the B's at Housel Park, Ice won with a 7-4 score over Moose. Charles Mecum was the winner, with Wayne Bailey taking credit for the loss.

The Ice were hot in the "C" league at Housel, putting over 25 runs, while Moose had 9. Greg Boehne was the winning pitcher, with Don Vinson the loser for Moose.

It was Post 16 over Optimist in the second "A" game, 15-4. Mike Jarvis was the winner on the mound, with Bob Bechtel chalking up the loss for Optimist.

In the B's at Housel Park, Ice won with a 7-4 score over Moose. Charles Mecum was the winner, with Wayne Bailey taking credit for the loss.

The regular meeting of the Sedalia Boat Club will be held Monday, July 1st at 8 p.m. at No. 1 meeting hall. Refreshments after the regular session.

Merchants Will Make 2-Day Stand

The semi-pro Sedalia Merchants, with an eight win, four loss record, are slated for a two day home stand against Springfield this weekend. The games are scheduled at 8 p. m. Saturday and 2 p. m. Sunday on the Liberty Park baseball diamond.

Springfield is coming to Sedalia with its strongest team in years. They have depth in both pitching and hitting power, and promise to be the toughest challenge for the Merchants yet this season.

The Merchants, last year's Missouri State Semi-Pro Champions, have lost to Salisbury, Columbia, and Jefferson City this year. The stumbling on the part of the Merchants can be traced to poor pitching and poor defense, linked with less support from generally smaller crowds at games this year.

Bob Brown, who last year won 11 games, losing none, just can't seem to win this year. In five outings, Brown has been "bombed." Dick Horner, however, has been superb in some of his turns on the mound.

Skip Schultz has been almost too good to believe, adding good pitching jobs on top of each other. Earl Finley and Jim Fall have both helped the Merchants when the regular pitchers have failed.

At the plate, newcomer Hank Spellman has given the locals a big lift with his power hitting. "Big Hank" has hit five home runs in the last seven games. Bill Dey and Don Crank are leading the Merchants' hitting attack, with Dey batting .500 and Crank .475. Sonny Thomas is again hitting the ball solid, too.

John Higgins, two times all-state at third, has no match. Jim Fall, at first this season, is doing the job well.

On the mound Saturday night for the Merchants will be Earl Finley, with Bob Brown slated to pitch Sunday afternoon. Vincent and Foley will start on the mound for Springfield.

Cards Arrive In Houston For Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first place St. Louis Cardinals flew warily into Houston today to open a weekend series against the Colts, who have just ended a 10-game losing streak.

"I'd rather not play a team that's losing like that," said Lew Burdette. "You feel it's about due to break loose."

"Maybe we recognize we can't take any team lightly in this league," said Manager Johnny Keane.

It will be Bob Gibson's job tonight to keep the Colts in check and extend the Cardinals' mastery over them. They have yet to lose to last place Houston in five games. Gibson is 6-3.

Dick Drott (2-5) is scheduled to work for the Colts.

Kansas City continued to sink Thursday toward the lower reaches of the American League. Washington out-homered the A's, 3-1, in Kansas City and the Senators won, 4-2.

Jim King, Don Zimmer and Hobbie Landrith connected for Washington, which won only its third game on a 17-game road trip. Norm Siebern homered for the A's.

The loss put the eighth place A's nine games back.

They move to Baltimore tonight. Orlando Pena (5-9) is scheduled to pitch for Kansas City and Steve Barber (11-5) will be the Oriole hurler.

The facts of the matter are that Vada Pinson of Cincinnati is hitting several points higher than Mays and may wind up getting the starting nod in the poll of the players, managers and coaches.

The feeling here is that Mays probably will get the job, regardless of average.

Local Sports Forecast For Today

In Connie Mack League play tonight at the Liberty Park baseball diamond, VFW will meet Broadway Realty in the first game at 6:30 p.m., and S and M Athletic Goods is pitted against Pepsi in the second game.

Little Leaguers in action tonight will be Lions playing Post 16 and Moose facing Kiwanis in both the Little League "majors" at Liberty Park and in the A's at Centennial Park. At Housel Park, Lions will meet Elks in the "B" and "C" league play. Games at all three parks begin at 5 p.m.

Willie Mays Figures Are Shockers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Willie Mays figures are truly shocking.

At the end of June with the All-Star team about to be selected, Willie is running far behind his 1962 pace.

Just look at the figures:
R H 2B 3B HR RBI Av.
1963 44 70 11 1 12 33 .261
1962 61 90 21 3 21 65 .325

"There is nothing basically wrong," a friend advises. "He is just trying too hard. Every day, every inning Willie feels strongly that he must justify that big $100,000 salary the Giants are paying him. He feels he has to show something every day."

When Mays collapsed last year in Cincinnati and was taken to a hospital for rest, his main problem was nervous tension. He bounced back and led San Francisco through the playoffs and into the World Series.

Ask Al Dark, his manager, and you will get the usual answers that Willie is the greatest and he isn't worried. When Harry Jupiter, a San Francisco baseball writer, asked Dark about Mays' chances of playing in the All-Star Game, Dark told him Willie always should be in center field for the National League as long as he is playing ball.

The facts of the matter are that Vada Pinson of Cincinnati is hitting several points higher than Mays and may wind up getting the starting nod in the poll of the players, managers and coaches.

The feeling here is that Mays probably will get the job, regardless of average.

Gonzalez Still Thinks He's Great

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — His old crown knocked askew, his prestige badly shattered and his game slowed to a walk, a badly beaten Pancho Gonzalez insisted today he still can beat any tennis player alive.

"I'll play any one of them any day of the week, and I'll bet on myself," he said after his 10-8, 2-6, 6-0, 6-1, defeat at the hands of Peruvian Alex Olemdo in the first round of the U.S. Pro Tennis championship at Forest Hills Thursday.

"I'm willing to play them any place, any time and for whatever they want—if they dare. And I'll guarantee the gate," he said.

Gonzalez' defiance did not reflect his play against Olemdo, who simply let the 35-year-old former tennis ruler run himself into the ground during the first two sets.

"My legs just gave out on me," said Pancho.

"Every time I bent down I thought I would cave in. I hardly had the strength to straighten up in the last set."

Gonzalez was making a comeback in a feud-flavored tournament, after 21 months on the sidelines. He was pro champion from 1954 to 1961.

Gonzalez said he felt fine until late in the second set when he had to work extra hard to break Olemdo's service for 5-2 and then hold his own for the winning game.

The defeat of the old king was a blow to the 3,500 spectators, nearly all attracted on a scorching day by the colorful Californian.

Tony Trabert, director of the player combine that is feuding with Gonzalez, was as happy as if he had been Pancho's conqueror instead of Olemdo.

Gonzalez and the association have been fighting in public and the courts over rival television shows and other matters. The association suspended Gonzalez and he filed suit against it.

"Gonzalez was thoroughly beaten," Trabert gloated. "And I enjoyed it very much. Particularly because of all the threats and the boasts he has made."

"The king of tennis no longer reigns supreme," Tony said. "He's not the man he used to be. Two years out of competition, especially for a man his age, proved his undoing."

"They'd like to bury me," Pancho said. "But they can't do it just because I lost one

Chiefs Grip Title For First Half

The Sedalia Chiefs have cinched the championship of the Missouri western division Ban Johnson league for the first half season's play. They were assured of the title after giving Lexington a 12-3 drubbing Thursday night in a game at Liberty Park.

The local B.J.'s close the first half of the season with an untarnished seven wins, no loss record in league play. The second half season's play will begin with a game Sunday night against Lowry City.

The Chiefs jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning against Lexington Thursday, and were never seriously challenged by their opposition.

Leading Sedalia's 11 hit attack was Lonnie Schott, who pounded out three hits for the Chiefs, including two doubles. Ernie Dow Nicky Nichols, and Ron Mooney each had two hits for the night, with Dow knocking a triple and a double, and Nichols a two-bagger.

Coach Kenzie Bunger, who had announced his intention to do so, spread around the Chiefs' pitching chores, sending all four of his pitchers to the mound. Terry Fletcher started the game and was left in for three innings, allowing five hits and one run. Don Wilhite took over in the fourth inning, allowed two hits and one run in two innings of play; Frank Chipala pitched the next two innings, allowed one hit and one run; and Jim Schnakenberg put the lid on the last two innings, allowing two hits and no runs.

Speareading the Chiefs' hitting for the first half of the season was Ron Mooney, who had ten hits in 16 times at bat, giving him an unofficial batting average of .625. Ernie Dow is also high on the unofficial list, with 12 hits in 28 times at the plate, giving him an average of .429.

For Rookie Pitcher Ray Culp Halfway To a New Record

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Culp, Philadelphia's $100,000 bonus right-hander who had a losing minor league record, is halfway home in his bid to become the first rookie pitcher since 1947 to enter the 20-victory circle in the National League.

Culp, 21, won No. 10 Thursday night as the Phillies pounded 18 hits and clobbered Pittsburgh 13-4 in the only game on the NL schedule.

If Culp continues at his present pace, he will have an excellent chance to become the first rookie 20-game winner since Larry Jansen of the New York Giants posted a 21-5 record in 1947. Bob Grim of the New York Yankees was the last American Leaguer to do it with 20-6 in 1954.

Culp came to spring training with four years of professional experience behind him, a 27-35 minor league record and a 5.33 earned run average. But he had showed promise in 1962 at Williamsport of the Eastern League, where he was 13-8.

The 6-foot, 200-pounder has a 10-5 record, a 2.55 earned run average and seven complete games in 14 starts. He is No. 4 in strikeouts with 103.

Against the Pirates, Culp allowed two hits in six innings, but was touched for two runs and three hits in the seventh and was given a rest by Manager Gene Mauch.

The Phillies piled up 18 hits and their biggest run production of the season. The 18 hits tied the NL high for the season.

Johnny Callison took hitting honors for Philadelphia, becoming the first player in either league to complete the single, double, triple, homer cycle this year. He tripled in the first inning and scored the first run, then followed with a three-run homer, a single and a run-producing double.

Clay Dalrymple also homered for the Phillies, whose left fielder, Tony Gaonzalez, committed his first error in 205 games, a major league record. The old mark was 199.

Tonight the tight pennant struggle continues with St. Louis leading Los Angeles one-half game back. San Francisco 1½ behind, Cincinnati three out and the Chicago Cubs four to the rear.

Commercials Are a Little Far Fetched

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What is a television columnist's idea of a vacation?

Several research projects suggest themselves.

I've been induced by one commercial to experiment with pearls in bottles of shampoo. Does a gleaming gem really drift glamorously to the bottom or does it sink like a stone? And, if it sinks, what has that to do with the subsequent cleanliness of my crowning glory?

I've been toying with the idea of concealing those white hairs in an effort to learn if a bottle of hair coloring will—as it does for the television model—also erase the dark shadows under my eyes, result in lavish gifts of flowers and persuade handsome, gray-haired men to dance with me.

Actually, it won't be all pure science. There are beaches on which to sun, views to savor, books to read, recipes to try, weeds to be pulled. Perhaps best of all, there is a dial to be turned or a knob to be pushed if what appears on my 21-inch screen fails to amuse, enlighten or stimulate.

ABC and a major Hollywood studio are planning an important series of programs for the 1963-64 season. MGM announced the series as "Great Stories from the Bible." ABC, very disturbed, issued a correction: The real title, it said, will be "Great Bible Stories."

A special Nielsen report estimates that more than 45 million homes had their television sets tuned to the coverage of L. Gordon Cooper's space flight. That works out to about 9 out of 10 homes, and was, the report says, the largest audience ever tuned in to an event.

An NBC show which should be seen in color for full impact will be the August "Voice of the Desert," based on Joseph Wood Krutch's fine book.

CBS' "Town Meeting of the World," July 10 will use telstar facilities to bring together electronically former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in Denver, former British prime minister Anthony Eden in London and economist Jean Monnet in Paris and former German foreign minister Heinrich von Brentano from Cologne. They will discuss international affairs ranging from the nuclear threat to the European Common Market.

CONTRAST—In contrast to the filmy costumes Elizabeth Taylor wore for "Cleopatra" is this Givenchy-designed gown of heavy brocade. It will be worn by Miss Taylor in her new starring role in "V.I.P."

NBC's "Mystery Theatre" won't be quite as fresh a series as might seem. Eight of the 15 programs which replace Perry Como for the summer, will be reruns, including next Wednesday's "Rules of the Game" with Hugh O'Brian.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Saturday — "Lucy-Desi Shows," CBS, 7:30-8:30 p.m. EDT—Reruns of comedy specials from other seasons.

Sunday—"Opening Night," NBC, 10-11 p.m. — Documentary shot during rehearsals of an off-Broadway show.

Accept Third Compromise

For Aid to Dependent Children in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Senate accepted a third compromise allotment for aid to dependent children Thursday with a minimum of opposition.

The embattled welfare bill now goes back to the House where it will be presented for a new try Friday.

Sen. J. F. Patterson, D-Caruthersville, the Senate appropriations chairman, said House and Senate conferees were unanimous in setting a figure of $15,600,000 for aid to dependent children.

Profumo's Successor Is Named

Godber Appointed To Take on War Minister's Duties

LONDON (AP) — Joseph Godber, an articulate spokesman for Britain in the East-West arena, has been named war minister to succeed John Profumo — who resigned in disgrace three weeks ago.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, whose Conservative government has been shaken by the sex-and-security scandal involving Profumo, announced the appointment Thursday.

Godber, 49, has been minister of state. He has been his country's disarmament expert for the past two years in negotiations in Geneva, and has been its spokesman at sessions of the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

He gave up farming in 1951 to become a Conservative party legislator. He has had no direct experience with the military.

In his new post he will be responsible not only for the army but for certain intelligence operations as well.

He will not have full Cabinet rank, and the power of his office will decrease when the British service ministries merge under the guidance of the minister of defense.

The post of war minister has been vacant since Profumo resigned on June 5 after confessing he lied to the House of Commons about his relations with Christine Keeler, a red-haired 22-year-old party girl.

Franchise Payment

Missouri Public Service Company today made its second quarterly electric and gas franchise payment for 1963 to the City of Sedalia for the use of streets and alleys.

Harry Kull, District Manager, gave the City Clerk a check in the amount of $31,571.49, which is one-fourth of the franchise payment based on the Company's sales of electricity and gas to consumers in Sedalia during the year 1962. Two additional payments will be made during the year at the end of each quarter.

The franchise payments are in addition to real estate, personal property and other taxes paid to Pettis County including the City of Sedalia.

By French Government

Western Europe Warned Against Trusting U. S.

PARIS (AP) — France warned Western Europe Thursday against trusting its security completely and indefinitely to the United States.

President Charles de Gaulle's information minister — obviously voicing the president's view — observed that no one knows what Washington's policy may be 10 years from now. He said the record of American neutrality in 1914 and 1939 does not inspire confidence.

This amounted to De Gaulle's reply to Kennedy's pledge in Frankfurt Tuesday to risk the destruction of American cities to preserve European freedom "because your freedom is necessary to our own" and Kennedy's call for an Allied international approach to security in the nuclear age.

Newsman were tipped in advance that the minister, Alain Peyrefitte, would be giving De Gaulle's comment on the Kennedy speech in a talk to the Parliamentary Press Association. The staff of the state-owned and state-operated radio-television networks recorded the talk for full broadcast later.

"The French government," said the minister, "has never doubted the resolution of President Kennedy, but it may well ask what the successor to President Kennedy may say in 10 years' time."

American foreign policy, Peyrefitte continued, has already undergone "considerable changes," and others might occur.

He underscored this was a reference to America's delay in coming in on the Allied side in two world wars.

He said France would have wished in 1914 "to have the United States at its side." The United States entered World War I in

On Labor Equality

Labor Secretary Gives Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said Thursday that Negro job equality can be achieved only at the expense of white workers unless there is full employment.

Testifying in support of the administration's civil rights bill, Wirtz said the fight to improve the Negro's economic lot means a fight to improve the entire economy.

"It will be a hollow victory," he told a House Judiciary subcommittee, "if we get the 'whites only' sign down, only to find 'no vacancies' signs behind them."

Wirtz sketched a picture of the unemployment burden borne by Negroes that Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., called "almost criminal in its nature."

"These figures should arouse the nation from its apathy," said Celler.

Wirtz's statistics showed that Negroes, who comprise a tenth of the work force, make up more than 25 per cent of the hard-core unemployed, and that among married men with family responsibilities the Negro unemployment rate is nearly three times higher than for whites.

Although racial discrimination plays a large role in the situation, Wirtz said, the basic cause is a shortage of jobs in the economy as a whole.

"The problem of minority group unemployment will not be met until the whole unemployment problem is solved," he said.

Wirtz, who followed Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in urging support for the administration bill, faced the same barrage of Republican questioning that greeted Kennedy on Wednesday.

Sedalians Charged In Gas Thefts

Two young Sedalians, William Harvey Walters, Jr., 19, of 2110 South Engineer, and Floyd Cecil Weathers, 17, Route 3, have been charged with petit larceny by police in connection with the taking of some gasoline from a truck owned by Thomas Fisher, 1604 East Harvey.

Police received a report that gasoline was being stolen at the address on Harvey at 10:31 p.m. Wednesday. When officers arrived the subjects had run off, but a car they left at the scene was traced to Walters, police said.

Officers Albert Blankenship and Gordon McDowell searched the area and found the two youths hiding in the basement of a burned house in a nearby field.

Police said Walters and Weathers were still being held in the city jail at noon Thursday.

When officers arrived at the scene a juvenile aged girl was noted running away. She was caught and taken home, but authorities had some difficulty keeping her there.

Police said the girl was apprehended by Officers William Burnham and Virgil Frazier at Booneville and the M-K-T Railroad tracks and then brought to the police station. Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn took the girl to her home, but as he drove up to the house she jumped out of the car.

About an hour later she was picked up while hitchhiking on west Highway 50 by Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr. Glenn and Stohr took the girl home for the second time at 12:15 a.m. Thursday.

Warm Greeting for 'Cousin Jack' on Journey to Ireland

For Past Year

Sedalia Street Reports Given

Mayor L. L. Studer of Sedalia Thursday released the report by Robert Cunningham, city engineer, concerning work done by the Street and Alley Department during fiscal year 1962-1963, ending May 31.

In the prelude to the report, the Mayor stated, "I should like to emphasize that none of the expense incurred on the streets was assessed against the property owners, but was paid for from the revenue derived from the gasoline taxes, parking meters and the general revenue funds."

Following is the report: Mixed and placed 4,100 tons of asphalt patching material in chuck holes on 82.9 miles of asphalt surfacing and 18 miles of old concrete pavement.

Sealed cracks and joints in 19 miles of concrete pavement and 12 miles of hot mix asphaltic concrete surfacing.

Spread road mix asphalt mat surface on 21 blocks of old black-top surface where there were too many chuck holes for economical hand patching.

Spread road mix asphalt mat surface on three blocks of old black-top surface where new curb and gutter was constructed and paid for by property owners.

Bladed 230 miles of gravel and dirt streets and 40 miles of alleys. Spread 1,400 cubic yards of gravel in mudholes on 23 miles of gravel and dirt streets and 40 miles of alleys.

Installed 410 new pipe culverts on driveways and intersections of streets and alleys and covered with gravel. Property owners purchased pipe used on private driveways.

Cleaned out road ditches and culvert pipes on 255 blocks of streets.

Rough excavation for 18 blocks of new curb and gutter on existing streets.

Grading for opening four blocks of existing streets to traffic.

Spread gravel purchased by property owners on three blocks of dirt streets.

JFK Visit To Ireland Baffling

Sentiment Nor Politics Explain Reason for Trip

By J. A. DEAR

DUBLIN — The one angle of Mr. Kennedy's ten-day European tour that baffles everyone is why, oh why, is he spending three precious days of his presidential life in Ireland. It can't be a sentimental journey because he isn't and anyway he's covered this route before. The political angle doesn't figure. It's an improbable place to assert one of his favorite themes: economic growth depends on freedom, and alas, Eire's government is unstable.

There had been a theory that Ireland was on the tour because it alone of the four nations on his schedule is untroubled by crisis, but an obscure argument over taxes has created a crisis here. It could be that the situation is obscure only to outsiders. One member of the Dael (pronounced 'dull') declined to comment on the issues involved because "my views are well known," but the President is here, and his pace matches that of the 1960 campaign.

A week earlier, and he could have got the low down on the real source of the world's troubles right here on O'Connell Street. It isn't Communism, it's "British colonial imperialism." At least that's what this fellow told the crowd, which was celebrating the centennial of Wolfe Tone's birth. He was a leader of the 1798 insurrection, which was suppressed.

In the pubs on the sidestreets Wolfe Tone is celebrated continuously, an early closing rule is rigorously enforced. In these establishments the serious proceedings—gauffing and singing — are punctuated with brief introductions like: "and this chap is recently released from the Belfast jail—a political prisoner." The songs are in minor key, and catalogue verse upon verse, the calamities, disasters, and betrayals Eire has endured. (Incidentally, Irish tenors are a rarity. There was only one at the Brazen Head, a beefy boy with fine features like a girl, but his voice was untrue.)

Most of the Teddy Boys could double for Senator Edward Kennedy. Same chin, same shock of hair falling toward the eye. In fact, Kennedy features are commonplace in Ireland. That's probably why Andrew Minihan, chairman of the Urban Council, New Ross, is confident the President has closer relations in Ireland than those he is seeing at Dunganstown. This wee metropolis consists of two houses on a country lane. (It is alleged there is a third house in the area.)

From the homestead one Patrick Kennedy, the supposed forebearer of the President, went to New Ross to embark for the United States. The county seat in these parts is Wexford. Hence Mr. Kennedy's visit to this area. As for the homestead: according to Minihan, a balding, bearded talker with flashing eye, "it is to be doubted" that an original stone of the manse remains. A paved courtyard was put down several weeks ago, and this has eliminated the gamy aroma of the area. Said one reporter, female, and on viewing the scene, "Well, Jackie wouldn't live here, that's for sure." Efforts to elicit

Warm Reception From Kennedy's Third Cousin

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — President Kennedy captivated the Wexford County stamping ground of his Irish ancestors in a whirlwind tour Thursday that combined informality, dignity and warmth.

A rapid-fire series of visits to New Ross, the old family homestead at Dunganstown, and the City of Wexford left delighted Irishmen cheering by the thousands for "Cousin Jack."

The highlight of his tour by helicopter, automobile and on foot came at Dunganstown, where he was met and briskly kissed by his plump third cousin, Mrs. Mary Ryan, 62.

The widow, in a purple and white flowered frock, gave him another matronly embrace at the end of a lively 40-minute stay at the home of his great-grandfather, Patrick Kennedy, who sailed for Boston 120 years ago.

Kennedy's triumphal tour began with a helicopter flight from Dublin to New Ross, which proudly displayed banners identifying him as "our 35th president."

The resident population of New Ross is 5,000. The police estimated the crowd there as at least 15,000. Hardly a lick of work was done in the countryside as they swarmed in to welcome Kennedy as a native son who had made good in a land across the sea.

A boys club broke into a famous Irish song called "The Boys of Wexford" and the President smilingly joined in with a fair, light baritone.

Anti-Strike Re-Hearing Is Sought

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Attorney General Thomas F. Eagleton asked the U.S. Supreme Court Thursday for a rehearing on its decision knocking out Missouri's utility anti-strike law.

The court held the state had no right to seize the Kansas City Transit Co. to prevent a strike by its operating workers.

Since the decision, the union, Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, has announced new strike plans and a bus stoppage is reported imminent.

In his petition for a rehearing, mailed today, Eagleton argued the U.S. Supreme Court ignored the issues on which the Missouri Supreme Court upheld the law.

He said the so-called King-Thompson law is a valid exercise of the state's police power.

He argued "Missouri should not be deprived of the right to make use of the King-Thompson Act to protect itself in true emergency conditions, of public danger, violence or disaster."

The transit company and union officials have been meeting in Kansas City to reach an agreement on a new contract.

Ecumenical Council To Resume

Council's Work May be Prolonged By Pope Paul VI

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has ordered the Vatican Ecumenical Council to resume Sept. 29. There were reports he might prolong its work, possibly for years.

His action Thursday in reconvening the council just three weeks later than originally scheduled was an indication of the Pope's enthusiasm for its work.

The greatest assembly of Roman Catholic bishops in history, it was called by Pope John XXIII to renew the church in the modern world and promote the cause of Christian unity. Pope John, 16 years older than the new Pope and seriously ill when the council first met last year, sought to reduce the council's work load and hoped to see it concluded by next Christmas.

But his death on June 3 automatically suspended the council. Pope John had recessed it last Dec. 8 to Sept. 8.

Pope Paul, only 34 hours after his election, said in his first message to the world he would continue the council. There had been speculation, however, that he would wait until next year so that he could brief himself on its work.

To Vie With Kennedy's

Attempt to Prepare Welcome for Nikita

BERLIN (AP)—On the heels of President Kennedy's triumph in West Berlin, East German Communists strove to ready a rivalrous reception for Premier Khrushchev.

Khrushchev, perhaps accompanied by Valentina Tereshkova, the first woman cosmonaut, is scheduled to reach this cold war clash-point Friday. The trip appeared to be hastily improved to counter Kennedy's visit to West Berlin, and the program is still sketchy.

"Since it is not going to be a state visit like Kennedy's, but a friendship visit," said an East German official, "it is up to Khrushchev to decide what he wants to do."

As for the world's first woman cosmonaut, Western speculation was that he might bring her to help spark enthusiasm.

Communist authorities have all official propaganda organs mobilized to welcome Khrushchev for his seventh visit to the divided city.

When he was last here in January for a German Communist congress, he invited West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt to cross the wall and talk over Berlin problems.

Brandt wanted to accept, but bowed to opposition in the West Berlin Senate. The invitation was left open and it seemed possible Khrushchev might renew it.

BULLETIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Baling for president of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce proceeded Thursday night in an atmosphere of pandemonium.

Members took a break for supper after the first two ballots that saw Dick Headlee, 33, of Bountiful, Utah, take the lead with 1,294 votes. A candidate needed 1,718 votes to be elected.

Headlee was followed by Warner Marks, 31, Little Rock, Ark., 943 votes; Dick Thomas, 31, Sedalia, Mo., 685; and Bob Dillon, 34, Pittsfield, Mass., 513.

SOROSIS MEMBERS are shown in a collection of wedding gowns of early Sedalia families which are in the care of Mrs. T. H. Yount, 1809 West Third, who hopes some day Pettis County will have a museum where they may be displayed. Left to right are Mrs. Keith Yount, wearing a wedding dress of 1891; Mrs. Robert Johnson, Sorosis president; in a wedding gown of 1883; Mrs. William K. Gibson, in a dress of 1885; Mrs. John Lamy, wearing her mother's dress of 1917 and Mrs. H. W. Harris, in a wedding gown of 1880. (Democrat-Capitol photos)

Array of Early Wedding Dresses Shows How Designs Have Changed

By Hazel Lang

ORIGINALLY bridesmaids had important duties to perform, the senior of them personally attended the bride for some days before the wedding. She made the bridal wreath, the table decorations for the bridal feast, and dressed the bride.

The latter duty, those who were trying to get some of the Sorosis members into wedding gowns of past generations for pictures, found, probably took several days, because it was a major operation. It must have been a problem that took plenty of patience and time for the bride and her senior bridesmaid to figure out how to get into them, and that might have been why more bridesmaids were added to the wedding. That was certainly what we needed that very hot day at Heard Memorial Club House — more bridesmaids with ingenious ability to know instinctively how these creations went on and where the eyes were for the hooks.

Even the most modern of the collection of gowns, which was 1917, and certainly at least the beginning of the era of more simple fashions, offered complications. It was worn by Mrs. John Lamy, and was the wedding dress of her mother, Mrs. Charles Messerly, Jr., 705 West Broadway.

The wedding of the Messerlys as appeared in The Sedalia Democrat at the time began:

"No more resplendent ceremony has been witnessed in society circles for years than the rainbow wedding of Miss Gwendolyn Johns, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Minton Johns, which was solemnized at the Broadway Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. R. C. Williamson.

The description of the bride's dress in the article stated: "The bride was exceedingly pretty in the robe of ivory satin embroidered in silver, the bodice of rose point lace. Her long court train, which fell from the shoulders, was embroidered in silver edged with lilies of the valley. Her veil of tulle was made with cape effect of rose point lace and was held in place by lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies."

And now we know why we couldn't figure out how that long train with a row of hooks across the top attached to the dress. We couldn't find the eyes and the reason we couldn't was that we were looking for them at the waist line and the article states the train fell from the shoulders. We didn't look up on the shoulders, we finally resorted to safety pins and pinned it to the waistline.

Mrs. Lamy, who was Mary Alice Messerly, not only wore her mother's wedding dress, but modeled by other young women for the pictures were the wedding gowns of her two grandmothers, her mother's mother, Mrs. William Minton Johns, and her father's mother, Mrs. Charles Messerly, Sr.

Mrs. Keith Yount is pictured in the wedding gown of Miss Alice Newkirk, who was married in 1891 to William Minton Johns.

The Sedalia Morning Gazette carried the article of this wedding which follows in part:

"The Broadway Presbyterian Church was crowded last evening at 8:30 o'clock by the elite society of the city to witness the ceremonies which made Miss Alice Newkirk and W. Minton Johns man and wife. Miss Alice is the youngest daughter of Hon. Cyrus Newkirk, president of the First National Bank, and Mr. Johns is the junior member of the lumber firm of S. P. Johns and Son.

"The bride's dress was an elegant princess dress of pure white brocaded satin and armure silk with train. The corsage (and that means a bodice and not a bouquet of flowers) is V shaped with high puffed sleeves trimmed in rose point lace, with suede gloves and slippers to match, rose net veil caught with pearl pins, and her hand carried a bouquet of brides roses."

The Rev. J. R. Stephenson performed the ceremony and Prof. A. G. Robyn, organist at the Grand Avenue Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, who was a noted musician, presided at the organ.

The church was decorated with wisteria and cape jasmine.

A reception followed at the Newkirk mansion which was on the southeast corner of Broadway and Ohio. About 200 were present and each guest received a box of wedding cake.

The wedding took place on June 4, 1891 and 50 years later, on

MRS. KEITH YOUNT, 1324 South Barrett, is shown in the gown of Mrs. William Minton Johns. This wedding dress is of heavy white satin with satin brocade train.

June 4, 1941, she wore her wedding dress again at her golden wedding, at the reception given at the Sedalia Country Club in their honor by their son, Cyrus Johns, who is president of the American Steel Corporation. She carried a little old fashioned colonial bouquet of jasmine.

Beneath the full skirt of this very heavy satin which has turned deep ivory, was something else that looked like a petticoat and yet seemed attached to the dress. Mrs. Yount wasn't exactly certain what it was and neither was anybody else. Both the dress and this petticoat affair that was on a waist band, had yards and yards of material and left everybody in a confused state. The question was, how to get into it, but after a struggle, she did. She may not have been in it right, but she was in it.

The gown was designed with boned bodice, that fastened up the front, leg of mutton sleeves, with winged effect satin ruffles over the shoulders, and the train which was attached to the waist in the back was brocaded with thistle pattern, widened into a rounded flare at the end beneath which were two wide rows of silk lace.

Mrs. Robert S. Johnson modeled the wedding dress of Mrs. Charles Messerly, Sr., who was Miss Mary McRobert of Springfield, Ill., and was married in 1884 to Mr. Messerly, in Springfield.

The Springfield, Ill., paper carried an account of the wedding which follows in part:

"Yesterday afternoon at the residence of the mother of the bride, Rev. Albert Hale, in the presence of a large number of friends, pronounced the ceremony which made Charles E. Messerly and Miss Mary N. McRobert's husband and wife.

"The bride and groom had no attendants thus making the pleasant deviation from the regular regime. The spacious parlors were shaded and lit by gas-light making the occasion a more solemn one. There were 100 guests present."

The wedding gown is an elaborate creation imported from France and completely handmade of French valenciennes lace and organdy fashioned with a full train. The collar has a wide ruffle, lace trimmed and the sleeves of three quarter length, have lace ruffles. Inserts of lace and designs are down the front of the fitted waist and the full skirt, as well as the train, which is lace edged.

At the time Mr. Messerly was mayor of Sedalia and a big reception and banquet was given on Thursday, Feb. 7, 1884.

From the Sedalia paper was the following about the reception:

"Last evening an epoch in society events that will live green in memory of Sedalians, and bloom radiant at each succeeding event that may come after. The occasion was the reception and banquet tendered to Mayor C. E. Messerly and his lovely bride, nee Miss Mary McRobert of Springfield, Ill.

"Preparations for the event have been in making by the citizens for some days and society circles have been aglow with anticipation. Sicher's Park big frame building had been selected as the place and every arrangement perfected that would crown the event as it did with success.

"The cream of Sedalia society attended.

"The ladies, the loveliest in the land with their rich costumes, brilliant ornaments their smiles and merry prattle for a constellation that was bewildering in pleasure."

The Sicher's Park is now Liberty Park and the big frame building stood where Convention Hall now stands.

Mrs. William Gibson wears the beautiful gown of Mrs. W. H. Powell, who was married to Mr. Powell in 1885. Styled with the high neck of lace so popular at that time, this dress, too, is of organdy and handmade lace, with hand crocheted medallions down the front. The dress buttons in the back with tiny buttons, has long tight sleeves and a short train. We fastened only the top hook of the high neck to save time and effort, then the picture taking man decided to take a back view.

The exquisite gown of white satin modeled by Mrs. H. W. Harris, was the wedding dress of two brides. It was on Aug. 24, 1880, that Miss Ella Lamy of Sedalia, was married to Charles P. Brown, of St. Louis. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lamy, Sr., and they were married by the Rev. J. B. Fuller in the First Baptist Church which stood at the corner of Fourth and Lamine. A large reception was given by the bridegroom at Sicher's Park, with people attending from St. Louis, and many other places.

On Oct. 6, 1899, her daughter, Miss Lucile Brown, wore the dress at the home wedding, 1003 South Ohio, when she was married to Joseph Waddell, with Rev. Stanislaus Neiberg performing the ceremony.

The wedding gown of white satin was made with long basque with three quarter length sleeves and ruffles of French Valenciennes lace edged the low neckline and the pleated cuffs of the sleeves. The very full skirt lengthened into a train and was trimmed with three rows of the lace and edged with finely pleated satin. The basque was fastened with a crocheted cord of fine thread that laced in small embroidered eyelets down the front. Mrs. Waddell lives at 806 West Broadway.

And then there was what was called the second day dress, which was worn the second day after the ceremony, when neighbors were invited in, or when the bride called on the bridegroom's family.

The very lovely second day dress worn by Mrs. H. W. Harris, 1880, that Miss Ella Lamy of Sedalia, was married to Charles P. Brown, of St. Louis. She was the

Wally Boag Turns In Long Record

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Wally Boag was signed on a two-week deal. Eight years and 13,000 performances later, he is still starring in the Golden Horseshoe Revue at Disneyland.

There must be some kind of a record there. Five times a day, Wally comes on the stage of the Frontier Playhouse and convulses the crowd of Californians and tourists.

"You're going to read about me in the newspapers," he says grandly, adding: "I smoke in bed."

The audience roars. He looks like a campus cutup, which is a neat trick for a man in his 40s. He wears a bogus Western costume with six-shooters, which he fires occasionally to make sure everyone is paying attention.

He blows up balloons and fashions them into animal shapes, maintaining a fast patter throughout. He does a loose-jointed dance, plays the bagpipes and shoots water pistols.

To prove he will do anything, he doffs his toupee and replaces it backwards. Greater love for a laugh hath no actor.

The remarkable thing about his performance is not only that it is funny to hick and sophisticate alike. It is amazing that he can make each show seem as if he were auditioning.

How does he maintain his enthusiasm?

"The audiences," he replied. "They are great. Once in a while you get a cold audience; then it's a challenge to work harder and make them laugh."

"It's strange with some of the teen-agers. They have never seen live entertainment; all they know is television. They just sit there openmouthed, not knowing what to do. But the oldtimers — the ones who are 60 and over — knew what vaudeville was. They love the show."

Wally Boag has known every kind of audience from the time he was 19 and left Portland, Ore., to seek his fortune in show business. Vaudeville had just about expired, but he managed to get his seasoning in its dying days, doing his act with big-band units that toured theaters.

In 1955 he ran into tenor Donald Novis, with whom he had appeared in Australia. Novis mentioned he was planning to work for his friend Walt Disney at the new Disneyland Park and suggested Wally try out for it. Wally did, performing his act on a cold stage at the studio. Walt laughed, and that was enough.

Said Boag: "I have to laugh when my old buddies feel sorry for me because I'm still playing at Disneyland. Brother, they can have the night club drunks, the empty houses at matinees, the worry about bookings, the cheap hotels, the constant travel."

THE SECOND DAY DRESS for the bride was very important back in 1868 when it was worn by Mrs. Reuben A. Blair, mother of Miss Jessie Blair, for it was then, on the day after the wedding, that there was a gathering of relatives. This dress, with bonnet and parasol, was modeled by Mrs. H. W. Harris, 1313 West Fourth.

THE WEDDING GOWN of Mrs. C. E. Messerly, Jr., 705 West Broadway, is worn by her daughter, Mrs. John Lamy, 509 West Broadway. This dress is of white satin elaborately embroidered in gold.

MRS. H. W. HARRIS models the wedding gown of two brides, Mrs. Joseph Waddell, 806 West Broadway, who was married in 1899, and her mother, Mrs. Charles P. Brown, for whom it was made in 1880. It is of satin with lace trim.

Parking and Planning...

Under consideration in the downtown shopping district is another off-street parking facility for 71 automobiles at Second street and Ohio avenue. The proposal for it was made at city council meeting. The tentative price is $90,500 involving the purchase and razing of three buildings. Council has taken this matter under advisement for careful study.

If financing and other wrinkles can be ironed out to establish a parking lot in this location it would be most convenient to shoppers. It would be the 14th off-street parking facility in Sedalia's business district.

Our community is far ahead of many of equal or larger size in this respect and conforms to the suggestion made seven years ago by Hare and Hare, city planners, that off-street parking in Sedalia at that time was a pressing need. This was only one of many facets to a comprehensive or master city plan for the city of Sedalia prepared by professional planners to assist in carrying out logical development of Sedalia.

Regretfully, during the intervening years, the city plan in many respects has been so neglected that it might virtually be considered an orphan.

In the meantime, by the very nature of changing conditions, the City

Plan needs to be brought up to date. Likewise, more impetus should be given at City Hall to accomplish the objectives outlined.

The contents of this brochure still are basically sound and are required reading for every councilman. They are guides that should be followed more meticulously by new faces at City Hall.

Some persons may reason that in regard to city planning we have gone far enough with off-street parking lots. We disagree with this if choice locations can be obtained at reasonable prices, a prime factor requiring careful study in relation to need and relative values.

Admittedly, another parking lot and those already established are not the answer to prevent the downtown business district from "drying up"—an expression which has a dreadful connotation to many merchants. Yet even a feeble step forward is more to be desired than the reluctance of individual property owners and their store room renters to get up steam and do something about restraining the downtown shopping district from become arid for lack of personal attention.

Next, after singing the blues too long, may come the desert song. Downtown Sedalians don't want to hear it.

For Senior Citizens

Senior citizens seeking a new place in the sun may be interested in the fact that among 4,000 posts available in the Peace Corps in 45 countries are hundreds which might well be filled by qualified persons who have recently retired or are contemplating retirement.

These openings are being created by Peace Corpsmen who are completing their two-year tours of duty and by requests for expansion of projects, or for new programs. The posts must be filled by Sept. 1.

Says Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director: "We want as many senior volunteers as we can get for overseas assignment because of the expertness, patience and wisdom only experience and time can give."

Basic requirements: a bona fide skill in some trade or profession, ability to pass a satisfactory physical examination and successful completion of an orientation period.

WASHINGTON POST: The TV Wrestlers.

Television wrestling is, for all its synthetic sadisms, probably the safest of all professional sports. Ballplayers, as you know, are sometimes felled by line drives or put out of action with broken fingers. Matadors are sometimes painfully gored. Golfers must take the risk of ivy poisoning in the rough, of flea bites in the sandtraps and of bee stings on the putting greens. But if anybody has ever been seriously injured in a televised wrestling bout, it has escaped our notice; indeed we never cease to be astonished by the frantic eagerness of the participants to renew the combat even after the decision has been announced.

Wrestling is also the most egalitarian of sports. In other forms of athletic endeavor the race is usually to the swift, the battle to the strong and favor to men of skill. But wrestling championships appeared to be awarded on the basis of popularity, and since crowds are notoriously fickle with their favorites the title is constantly passing from one performer to another, so that in the end, probably, everybody gets a fair turn at being champion. This, we take it, is in the true democratic tradition.

He dipped his hand into all sorts of policies, from advising that the Voice of America be divorced from the State Department to urging that foreign policy in the cold war be transferred from the State Department to the National Security Council.

3. Vice President Johnson, not aware of Clay's past fumbles, picked him for a joint trip to Berlin during the Berlin wall crisis in 1961. Kennedy later sent him back as U.S. representative, where he made more fumbles.

First he held an off-the-record press conference at which he dropped word that the USA was ready to recognize East Berlin. Next day, following the furor from the West German press, he issued a flat denial. The Kennedy administration then became frozen with that denial.

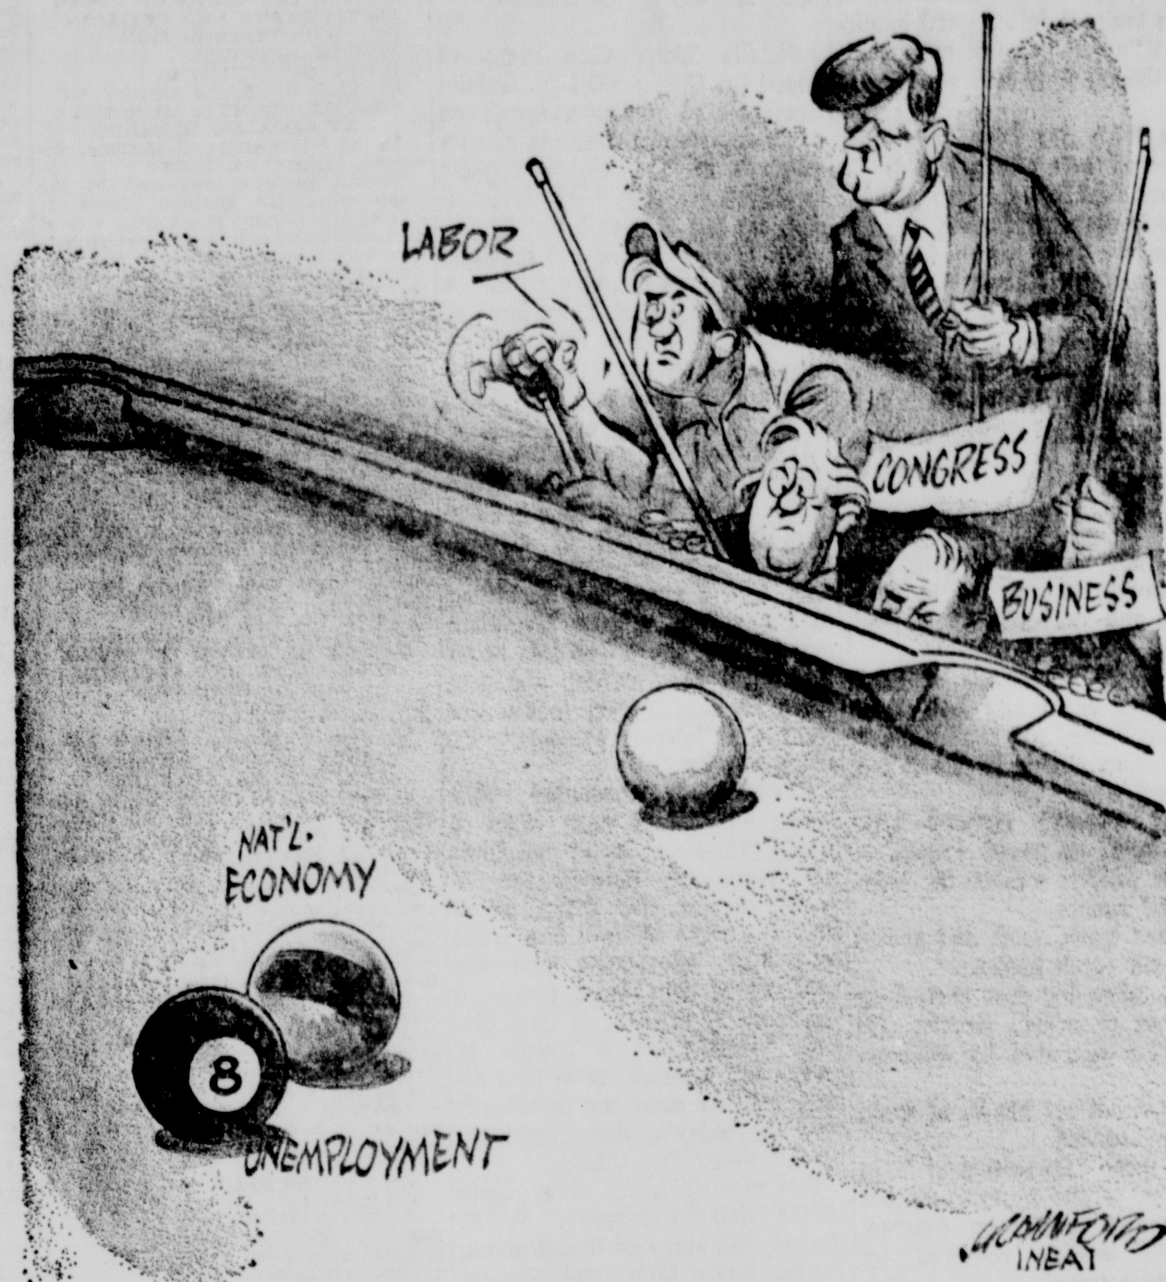

Next Gen. Clay reinstated military patrols on the Berlin highway as a show of strength. This caused the Russians to bring out a superior show of strength and shoo our patrols off the highways. We bowed. It was a humiliating retreat which no smart commander should have got us into.

Then, when U.S. diplomats refused to show their passports to East German police—though John Foster Dulles previously had OK'd this—Gen. Clay ordered up U.S. tanks.

The Russians retaliated by matching our tanks. It created one of the most dangerous situations of the cold war. The headlines were glorious, but the retreat inglorious. The East Germans are now doing what Clay brought the tanks up to protest against. They are scrutinizing U.S. diplomatic credentials.

This is the retired general whom President Kennedy is taking with him as an adviser on Germany.

"Whose Shot?"

Dialogue from Washington

By Vera Clay

Luther Hodges, our Secretary of Commerce, a soft-spoken North Carolinian and the oldest member of Kennedy's cabinet, says $4 million is "peanuts" compared to billions. He said it before the House Appropriations Committee and gave the Chairman, Congressman John J. Rooney of New York, a fit.

The $3.5 million item, to be exact, is what Hodges wants for the U. S. Travel Service, exactly a million more than its present budget and the solons want to know "what for," having been regaled with tales about cufflinks and bracelets being freely dispensed, carpets being laid and insignia being designed to identify our travel lads.

Hodges, a proven money maker and one time Governor of North Carolina, (the state which leads the Southern pack in industrial development) knows of what he speaks when he says "peanuts." If it takes largess to build up goodwill, he regards it as good business. As for laying carpets, it might have been wiser to bring an old American Indian rug to the travel office.

But, the whole idea of the U.S. Travel Service is to bring dollars back home. Instead of our galivanting about the globe, spending, we are trying for a change, to get the world's tourists to see the USA and spend here.

The concept is different and even though the program has been in operation for more than a year, it is news to most of us who are so accustomed to hearing about money going in the other direction.

Uncle Sam plans to open his doors this summer so be prepared for what President Kennedy, Secretary Hodges and those who keep our national pocketbook, hope will be a banner year for the visitors and our own cash registers. Two dozen foreign tourists a day in a community compares to a new industry with an annual payroll of $150,000.

Expect 700,000 visitors. Last year, more than 604,000 came and spent $234 million, about $470 each. This does not count the Mexicans or Canadians who have been coming across the border for generations without any prodding from a tourist service.

Nevertheless, travel still is the largest single commodity in the balance of payment deficit. Hodges can say "peanuts" again and again and again as U. S. citizens spent $1.4 billion more abroad than any visitors did over here.

Every time you "fill'er up" or go for a coffee break, dwell on the balance of payment deficit: petroleum and coffee follow hard on travel in keeping the money flow out.

How do we break the habit of the "grande tour" (an international travel market of $3.5 million from 21 countries) and get the tourists to come from abroad to Yellowstone Park instead of the Alps — to San Francisco instead of Gay Paree — to New Orleans instead of Naples?

We tell them about the USA. We open travel offices in nine major cities. We proselytize and advertise. We do away with long, inquisitorial questionnaires and grant visas in a hurry. We make the guests welcome in every hamlet and port of entry (A big, super-giant welcome message from President Kennedy hangs in splendor at airports, prompting some to ask if the President is running a political campaign afield) and we remain our charming, hospitable selves.

If you don't know now, you will: posters will appear on 40,000 post office trucks, "Company's Coming" and Bob Hope, Danny Kaye and Helen Hayes will give you a TV "talking to." Look for visitors on your streets, too. Give them a helping hand, directions, a handshake and invite them in to see how you live. This, according to surveys, is their major request—to compare their misconceptions with the actuality.

The visitors love "our friendly ways." They think our food is marvelous, our cooking lousy. They don't like the dirt and crowds or tipping. They want translators and central information offices.

Within one half an hour after a foreign visitor checks into a Baltimore, Maryland hotel, an interpreter is on the phone, bidding him welcome. Major host cities (Philadelphia, Springfield, Kalamazoo and Los Angeles) have extensive "open house" programs—do it yourself "how do you do" operations — in readiness.

Most of our guests will come from England, West Germany and France. They will want to see showplace cities: New York City, Washington, Miami, San Francisco and Chicago. They will drive exuberantly and probably on the wrong side of the road down major superhighways, check in at our national parks (Yosemite the Rockies) and try to get to the baby states, Alaska and

FINDING THE WAY

Anticipation's Alternative

BY RALPH W. LOEW D. D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Not too long ago I stood at the rim of an observation platform in Japan and looked at Hiroshima. I was conscious that I could say "18 years after Hiroshima..." Most of us are better at hindsight than at foresight.

After a strike, it is possible for both sides to reason out their differences.

After the catastrophe it is possible to discover the structural defect or mistake in design that caused the tragedy.

After the accident it is possible to talk of the lack of judgment and the selfishness of speed that caused the broken bodies.

What is especially apparent in all of this is that we have been able to talk and do something about it afterwards. What if that dimension is taken away from us?

Suppose Norman Cousins is right when he says, "Man is now left with no defense except the use of his intelligence in keeping the horror (nuclear warfare) from happening. And the dominant characteristic of the present crisis is that the next emergency will leave no time for response. We either anticipate or die."

Every new report of nuclear experiment underscores the words. Perhaps the greatest deterrent to such kind of anticipation is that we become so busy with the things of the moment that we forget the things that matter most.

Like the civilization that is more interested in its comforts and its gadgets and its pleasurable escapes than in the willingness to support moral judgments and community responsibility in seeking a way to protect our future.

There is nothing new in this. All history is filled with the lamentations of those who looked at the destruction of their best hopes. It is also filled with those who redeemed the holocaust into the support of men's best hopes. The only thing new about our situation is that there might not be an "after," and we now have a "before."

So Jesus looked over the city of Jerusalem and wept, saying, "If thou hadst known even in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! But now they are hid from thine eyes."

The present gives us the opportunity to learn the lessons of the past; our present gives us the responsibility to determine that there may yet be a time when our children's children can also look at history.

For it seems literally true that "we either anticipate or we die."

High-Living Red Captain In Trouble at Home, Too

WASHINGTON — As interest in former British War Minister John Profumo's relations with 21-year-old party girl Christine Keeler now focuses on the third leg of the triangle — Soviet Naval Captain Yevgeniy Mikhailovich Ivanov — the wonder grows in Washington diplomatic circles that the Russian was allowed to continue his scandalous conduct openly for nearly three years.

When Ivanov was assigned to the Russian embassy in London in 1960 as a military attaché, he was already a known intelligence agent with a long record of espionage and playboy scandals at his previous post in Oslo, Norway, from 1953 to 1958.

This is what now appears to be the major breach in British security. It is recognized he should have been kicked out as persona non grata long before.

What finally forced Capt. Third Class Yevgeniy M. Ivanoff's recall to Moscow last January was not his notoriety as a drunk and a woman chaser. It was his association with Col. Oleg Penkovskiy, recently executed in Russia after a trial in which he was accused of having given Soviet secrets to western intelligence agents.

Ivanov and Penkovskiy knew each other intimately. They had been classmates for four years at the Military Diplomatic Academy, Russia's top intelligence training school. When Colonel Penkovskiy came to London several times during Captain Ivanov's tour of duty there, 1960-62, they spent much time together.

Hawaii. They'll ask for shoofly pie, corn on the cob, reindeer steak, laulau and up-side-down cake (they have gotten a U. S. Travel food pamphlet). Some will take the industrial tours of plants and factories. They will complain about their feet, gape at our landmarks, praise our air-conditioning and supermarkets and deplore our manners. Let us, anyhow, bid them welcome. We always have been our own best advertisement — once they get to know us.

Stonehenge near Salisbury, England, is the subject of many legends attempting to explain its origin. One of the earliest was that Merlin of King Arthur's court magically transported the stones from Ireland. Another, the supposed connection between Stonehenge and the Druids, is also without foundation. One fact which has been established by dating through measurements of radioactive carbon is that Stonehenge goes back to about 2000 B.C.

Published every Friday
Entered at the post office at Sedalia, Mo., as second class matter under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.
This newspaper is a dear publication, one dedicated to the interests and welfare of the people of Sedalia and Central Missouri.

Sedalia Firm Is Talk Topic

A review of one of Sedalia's most substantial firms—the Howard Construction Company—which had a modest beginning with a few trucks and minor equipment some years ago, was given by Daniel L. Wolfe, controller for that company, speaking before fellow Kiwanians at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Supplementing his remarks was a film presentation of activities of the firm in highway, bridge construction, and quarry operations. Assisting on the program was Russell K. Evans, field representative of Dean-Hanes Equipment Company.

Kiwanians were impressed with the magnitude of the Howard company's operations including ten corporations which at peak employment have as many as 500 employees. The annual payroll is $1,640,000. Total contracts on hand approximate $13,952,000 throughout Missouri.

The importance to Sedalia of the Howard Co., which is operated by Marvin and Olen Howard, brothers, was stressed by Wolfe in the fact that nearly $4,000,000 of the contract work is in this area. One is the Urban plan construction on Highway 65. The area payroll approximates $1,046,000. Furthermore the main office and maintenance shop is located in Sedalia. Many of the personnel reside here.

Interest in the story of the Howard companies was indicated by an extended question and answer period.

Invocation was by Job Harned, Dr. Gale T. Holman, new Sedalia dentist, was inducted as a new member in a ceremony conducted by Jack Shoemaker assisted by L. R. Hughes, Jr.

Dr. J. C. Alexander, president, announced that Vice-President M. L. Edwards and Director L. R. Hughes, Jr., were leaving for Atlantic City as delegates from the local club to the international convention.

He called attention of members to the meeting scheduled for next week which will include a joint session with the Lions club on Wednesday and a round table meeting July 4 in Bothwell Hotel. Guests were: Kiwanian John L. Winters, Huntington, Ind.; Kiwanian Robert Klammert, Brownsville, Tex., with Dick Haley; L. R. Hughes III with Chris Roose; and Frank O'Maley, Kansas City, with John T. S. Clair.

Mail Carrier Bitten

Mail carrier Jack Lohbaugh was treated Thursday by Dr. A. J. Campbell, Jr., after being bitten above the ankle by a dog. The incident occurred at 612 East Ninth, and, according to Poundmaster Donald Smith, the dog was chained, but able to reach the mailbox.

Provided asphalt mat coat at no cost on New York Avenue from 16th to 24th Street abutting Centennial Park by road mixing under on this street for use as patching material.

Installed underground storage and pump for diesel fuel at city garage.

Constructed A-frame hoist for use in city shop in removing motor from equipment, etc.

Asphalt seal coating on 84 blocks of asphalt surfacing. Work done by contractor.

The following work was done this spring by the 12-Mile Road District:

Asphalt seal coat on 68 blocks of blacktop streets.

Road mix asphalt mat on 26 blocks of streets, including 18 blocks of worn out blacktop and eight blocks of gravel.

During month of May, 1963, the road district mixed road mix asphalt patching material for the street department, including hauling rock and gravel, and also cleaned out ditches on 38 blocks of streets, and did asphalt patching work on blacktop streets.

additional information from the neighbors was unsuccessful. These taciturn folk regard inquiries as "an invasion of our privacy," though they will sell souvenirs.

The Irish are friendly people. As one of their officials said: "Our affection for the United States is demonstrated by the tolerance we have shown for your ambassadors." The present ambassador, Mat McCloskey was expected. And it could be that the President is doing this all for him or maybe it's for his father.

Club Hears O'Dell Talk

Sedalia Lions Club members heard Dr. Gardner O'Dell, Sedalia Presbyterian minister, speak on basic democratic concepts of government at the club's regular luncheon meeting held Wednesday, at the Bothwell Hotel.

Dr. O'Dell pointed out that one of the factors necessary for a successful representative form of government is for the peoples' representative to vote according to his best judgment, unhindered by pressure groups or lobbies.

Dr. O'Dell also raised the question as to whether public office is becoming a rich man's vocation. The high cost of election campaigns for the presidency, today, nearly rules out, according to Dr. O'Dell, a poor candidate like Lincoln. Dr. O'Dell also noted that most congressmen and senators in Washington, today, are from the "above average" income bracket.

The speaker concluded that leadership should stem from a man's "fitness to lead" and from his successful performance of public service. Dr. O'Dell noted that the right to rule has come from both inheritance and the wielding of unbalanced power in the form of armies, in past history. "Wealth, as a source of power, can be even more undesirable in today's democratic society," noted Dr. O'Dell.

Two visiting Lions were guests of the club Wednesday. N. F. Harms, secretary of the Midland, Texas, Lions Club, and Vincent Leo, an out of town Lion in Sedalia to open the new Holiday Inn hotel, were welcomed by local President J. L. Van Wagner, Jr.

Denny Gets Second Term As The Red Cross Head

James T. Denny was named to a second term as Pettis County chairman of the American National Red Cross in elections held at the local chapter office this week.

Other officers elected for the coming year included: Oscar H. DeWolf, first vice chairman; Mrs. Edward E. Brummett, second vice chairman; J. Edwin Mitchell, secretary; and R. R. Jiedel, treasurer.

Second Red Cross Swimming Class

Pettis County Red Cross officials reminded local residents that the second period of instruction in water safety begins July 2, at Sedalia's Liberty Park public swimming pool.

The water safety classes, instructed by Red Cross trained instructors, are divided into groups based on age and swimming ability. Most of those youngsters scheduled were enrolled through the public school system. Pettis County children not enrolled should contact the local Red Cross office, 112 West Fourth, for further information.

A second water safety instruction program, now in progress at Hubbard Park pool, is scheduled on a separate single period due to the smaller number of students.

Mrs. Maurice C. Hogan, water safety chairman, said that junior and senior life saving courses for advanced swimmers will be held later in the summer with the schedule to be announced in the near future.
